Decision Deferred in Regard to the New Volunteer Regiments—The Adjournment of Congress—Another Territory—The Medical Association, &c.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, May 5.

Our Army in Flanders never swore worse than various gentlemen interested in the new volunteer regiments have to-day, over the decision of the President in regard to them. Previous to the passage of the Deficiency and Kansas bills, they allege that they were told by the President that the regiments would be designated immediately on their passage, in consequence of which they labored vigorously to get them through, and actually did secure votes on both bills which would not otherwise have been given. To-day, however, they were coolly told by Secretary FLOYD, that the President had determined not to designate the regiments until after the passage of the General Appropriation bill. Intense indignations is felt in consequence, and the parties from one State have been with difficulty restrained from publishing a card in the States blowing up the President and all concerned.

It is understood between the President and the Democratic leaders that Congress shall not adjourn until the 15th of June.

The House Committee on Territories have agreed to report a bill organizing a Territorial Government for Nevada, the western part of Utah, including the rich Carson Valley.

There is a tolerably authentic rumor that the President has nominated Col. MORGAN, U. S. Consul at Marseilles, to be Minister to Portugal, vice O. SULLIVAN, recalled. O.

[FROM THE REPORTER FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, May 5.

The Committee on Nominations of the American Medical Association to-day reported Louisville, Ky., as the place for holding the next annual meeting.

Commander M. W. HUNTER has been ordered to the command of the Receiving Ship at Baltimore.

It is represented that some of the old Mexican Gubernatorial seals have been used to forge private land deeds in California, and hence the Senate to-day passed the bill to prevent and punish frauds in such cases in California.

Mr. CLINGMAN's speech on foreign affairs is regarded in the main as a semi-official expression of the views of the Administration.

There is no prospect whatever of the passage of the General Bankrupt law.

XXXVth CONGRESS------First Session.

SENATE ... WASHINGTON, Wednesday, May 5.

The morning hour was occupied in the consideration of private bills relating to California.

A joint resolution, of which Mr. SEWARD was the author, giving three years full pay of her deceased husband to the widow of Captain HERNDON, amounting to $7,500, was taken up.

Messrs. IVERSON, of Georgia, and SLIDELL, of Louisiana, opposed it.

Mr. BENJAMIN, of Louisiana, paid a warm tribute to the calm courage of Captain HERNDON, and hoped to God his case would be made a precedent for American officers.

Mr. SEWARD said that Mrs. HERNDON brought this matter to his notice, and in bringing it before the Senate he was influenced by the incident that the last that was known of the gallant officer was that he sent by a rescued passenger his watch to his wife, that being the estate he left her.

The resolution passed by ayes 32, nays 8.

The following were the nays:

Messrs. Clay, Green, Hunter, Johnson of Tenn., King, Slidell, Toombs.

There were 21 absentees.

The bill for the repeal of the Fishing Bounties act was taken up.

Mr. HAMLIN, of Maine, being slightly indisposed the subject was postponed until to-morrow.

Mr. HUNTER, of Virginia, called up the West Point Academy appropriation Bill.

Mr. HALE, of New-Hampshire, said that the Academy was useless, and a nuisance, and that a better General could be got out of a New-Hampshire lawyer—FRANKLIN PIERCE, for instance—who so far outstripped the West Pointers that it made him President.

Mr. HOUSTON, of Texas, said that President VAN BUREN was a West Pointer, but it was doubtful if the curriculum of a West Point education would be needed for every officer of the army. Too much attention to military details made martinets rather than soldiers.

The bill passed, 22 against 9.

The following were the dissentients:

Messrs. Broderick, Doolittle, Durkee, Hale, Harlan, Johnson, (Tenn.,) Pugh, Trumbull and Wade.

[Mr. King, of New-York was absent. Mr. Seward voted Aye.]

Mr. BENJAMIN, of Louisiana, submitted a resolution, which was adopted, asking for information from the President as to what steps have been taken for the protection of American commerce at Tampico, and other ports of Mexico, during the present distractions in that country.

Mr. FITZPATRICK, of Alabama, from the Military Committee, reported adversely on numerous memorials asking for the further equipment of United States militia.

The Vice-President notified the Senate of the resignation of Senator BIGGS, of North Carolina.

Mr. MASON's resolution in relation to Paraguay was taken up, and a vote called on Mr. COLLAMER's amendment precluding the President from using force, which was lost, 25 against 15.

The resolution was then passed in its original form.

On motion of Mr. DOUGLAS, the bill for the admission of Oregon was read.

Mr. MASON, of Virginia, was ignorant if Oregon possesses sufficient population, or can afford to pay the charges of a State Government.

Mr. DOUGLAS, of Illinois, said the vote on the Constitution was seven thousand, which would indicate fifty-five thousand population, although it was probably more, and doubtless ten thousand over the number with which we admitted Kansas.

Mr. SEWARD, of New-York—Did I understand the Senator to say we have admitted Kansas?

Mr. DOUGLAS—I will answer the Senator very unequivocally. So far as this Congress is concerned we have admitted Kansas. If she desires to come in under that bill, then our action is final and conclusive. If she does not so desire, then we have not.

Mr. SEWARD indulged in a quiet laugh, but made no reply.

Mr. GWIN said a few words in favor of Oregon as a law-abiding and respectable Territory.

Mr. SEWARD said the Oregon Constitution has a clause excluding from the Territory persons of African descent, although free. Great as his objection was to voting for the admission of a State with any such provision, yet, Oregon is an old settlement, inhabited by an industrious and respectable population, and it is not good to retain colonies or territories in a condition of pupilage longer than necessary. There are States whose admission he would not vote for with a million of inhabitants, and others he would vote for with fifty thousand. He would vote to admit Oregon.

Mr. BENJAMIN, of La., would admit Oregon, but in future would demand that a census be taken before the admission of a State.

Mr. FESSENDEN, of Me., objected to the admission, for the reason that negroes are citizens in Maine equal with whites, and the Constitution of Oregon denies their entry into that State.

Mr. TRUMBULL, of Ill., was opposed to the admission for reasons which he stated at some length, and moved that the subject be postponed till December.

Mr. WADE, of Ohio, drew attention to the clause that classes Chinamen with negroes.

Mr. WILSON, of Mass., said Massachusetts would welcome free Oregon, and would expect him to vote for it, but at the risk of incurring censure even from his personal friends, he would refrain. There was a clause in the Constitution which he considered unchristian and inhuman. Mr. WILSON showed the injustice which would arise to colored sailors landing in Oregon, and made a spirited defence of the 8,000 colored population of Massachusetts, which part of his speech was not very reverently received by the Southern Senators.

Mr. IVERSON would also vote for a postponement because we have no data showing a sufficient population.

Mr. MASON thought the Free States were becoming wiser in preventing the contamination of free negroes, in that respect imitating Virginia. Due experience was beginning to teach the African race who were their friends. So many negroes were applying to return to Slavery that Virginia and Texas have been compelled to provide means to permit them to do so.

Mr. GREEN briefly explained that the population of Oregon was sufficient, inasmuch as there were 16,000 on the poll list.

Mr. BROWN made facetious remarks, offering to let Massachusetts and New-York have as many free negroes as they want.

Mr. HALE drew attention to the treaty with China as at variance with the exclusion of Chinamen from civil rights. He also claimed for New-Hampshire the earliest abolition of Slavery, which he said took place in 1775. He would not vote for the admission of Oregon with this Constitution, this side of eternity. Adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, May 5.

Mr. CLINGMAN, of North Carolina, from the Committee on Foreign Affairs, reported a bill for the satisfaction of the French Spoliations, being a copy of the one vetoed by President PIERCE. He said he had been instructed to ask the postponement of the subject until the 19th of May.

On motion of Mr. SHORTER, of Alabama, the consideration of the subject was postponed till the first Monday in January next, by 66 against 60.

Mr. CLINGMAN addressed the House on the subject of the report which he made yesterday concerning the capture of General WALKER, maintaining that the arrest was without authority of law, as we cannot introduce troops into a foreign jurisdiction. The act of Commodore PAULDING, in its effects, was calculated to aid British and not American interests. He held that we ought to exercise our influence on Nicaragua to secure the right of way, and trusted that the treaty-making power of the United States will not allow any regulation to be made by which our interests will be damaged. It is stated, he said, that a Steamship Company in New York has the sole right to carry passengers, and YRISARRI has issued a proclammation that persons shall travel in or to no other line. Could any such restriction be placed on American citizens, and were they to submit to an enormous monopoly granted by the government of a country containing not more than half a million of people, and they mostly negroes and Indians? After speaking of the non-fulfillment of the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty, he said the best mode of getting rid of all attendant difficulties was to abrogate it. We have been engaged for eight years in negotiating with Great Britain, and have obtained nothing from her. As to who shall control Central America, Great Britain or the United States, he argued that we have the best claim. He condemned the trade of Great Britain in Asiatics, and of France in Africans, as of enormous cruelty. We have now on the coast of Africa, a squadron in connection with Great Britain, for the suppression of the Slave-trade, and yet Great Britain is transporting other races to her islands under the pretence of laborers. Was not this mockery? We might, at least, protest against this system, if we are not prepared to stop the traffic. He was mortified at the fact that American citizens at San Domingo are actually protected by the British Consul. Was it difficult for the Secretary of the Navy to get a ship to send thither? It was bad enough to submit to the insults of white people, and worse to those of free negroes. He hoped that the example set at Greytown would be followed in this case, and that there would be a reform generally in these respects. The Administration has not yet had an opportunity to show its hand on foreign policy, but from the antecedents of the President and the Secretary of State we have a right to expect better things. He quoted and approved the sentiments uttered by Mr. BUCHANAN in the Ostend manifesto.

Mr. GIDDINGS inquired whether he understood Mr. CLINGMAN to advocate the annexation of Cuba?

Mr. CLINGMAN replied that he would be very glad to see Cuba annexed to this country on any fair terms. Four years ago we had and ought to have taken it, after the Black Warrior affair. Its annexation would put an end to the Coolie and African trade.

Mr. DAVIS, of Maryland, inquired whether the resolution reported from the Committee on Foreign Affairs proposed the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty by proclamation or through negotiation.

Mr. CLINGMAN.—The President says it ought long ago to have been abrogated. He (CLINGMAN) believed the present British Cabinet was tired of the complication, having its hands full of other important matters. He knew very well there was a disposition on its part to have the treaty abrogated on fair and honorable terms, and he believed the Executive could have it done at this time.

The House then resumed the consideration of the Senate bill, providing for the admission of Minnesota into the Union.

Messrs. DAVIS, of Maryland, and ANDERSON, of Missouri, opposed the bill on the ground of its permitting alien suffrage.

Mr. REAGAN, of Texas, maintained that there was no power in Congress to say who shall be the electors in a State.

The consideration of the bill was postponed till to-morrow, and the House went into Committee on the Legislative, Judicial and Executive Appropriation bill.

The proceedings were dull, and at their conclusion the Committee rose, and the bill was reported to the House. Adjourned.

Reports upon the Pacific Railroad—The Yrisarri Treaty—Arizona—Necessity for more Troops—The Steamship Contracts.

Correspondence of the New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, May 4, 1858.

The Special Committee of the House on the Pacific Railroad will meet to-morrow, in the hope of agreeing to a report comprising a bill for the commencement of the work. But the diversity of opinion is so great that there is no reasonable expectation of combining a majority of the Committee in favor of any one project. The Chairman, Mr. PHELPS, of Missouri, is an able advocate of the Central route plan. Mr. WASHBURN, of Maine, and Mr. LEECH, of Michigan, prefer the Northern route, but will present a bill authorizing the construction of three roads by the Central, Northern and Southern routes. Mr. MCKIBBEN, of California, will submit the bill drawn up by Dr. GWIN, which was postponed by the Senate until next December. He interpolates provisions, however, designed to correct some of the imperfections of that bill. Several members of the Committee are absent, and in view of the certainty that nothing effective can be done on the subject at this session, it is not improbable that the Committee may decide to defer its report.

The Cabinet had a long and inconclusive meeting yesterday relative to the Cass and Yrisarri treaty, and, what is very strange, could not agree to submit it to the Senate. Their hesitation is very remarkable, because the treaty was formed here last Fall with the full concurrence of the Cabinet, and by a unanimous vote approving it in principle and detail. It is not known that anything has since occurred but what greatly strengthens the reasons then existing in behalf of the arrangement. The President distinctly informed all his colleagues in the Administration that a leading motive with him in negotiating the treaty was the suppression of filibusterism. This produced an opposition in the Cabinet which was not without difficulty overcome, but unanimity was so important that every member of the Council, at length, gave in his adhesion.

There is nothing new to any member of the Government in the White and Stebbins contract with Nicaragua. The perfect right of that Government to control the Transit route, was admitted by the Pierce Administration, and as the reopening of the lake and river route was of paramount importance, it became necessary to secure it, even in the face of the intended monopoly.

The difficulty which has occurred in the Executive Council will be removed, and the treaty will be submitted, but its confirmation by the Senate is not certain. It will be violently opposed, on the ground of confirming a private speculation, and as pledging this Government to obligations it may not be convenient to perform. The shortness of the session will not prevent speedy action on this important subject, for it is contemplated to hold an Executive Session after the 7th of June, should that be necessary for the dispatch of business.

The April mail has arrived from Arizona. Letters from Tuezon, Tubac, and other points in the Western parts of the Territory, report a miserable condition of things in the valley of the Santa Cruz. The Apaches continue to sweep over the country, without molestation or hindrance. These savages had made a recent foray upon the American and Mexican mining settlements near Fort Buchanan, and were on their retreat, pursued by a company of dragoons from the Fort, and seventy or eighty Pimos Indians. The troops proceeded in the style laid down in the books, and the Apaches escaped, favored by the beacon of danger furnished by the camp-fires of the soldiers. The Pimos were immensely disgusted with the scientific warriors. About fifty families were preparing to leave the Valley for California, from fear of the Indians. They had been harried by the savages, and neglected by the Government so long, as to have lost the resolution, as well as the material resources, necessary to their own defence. The settlers want three or four companies of volunteers for their protection.

An unnecessary contest has arisen here, between claimants to the right of representing the people of Arizona during the pendency of their application for a Territorial organization. If there was a well-founded doubt of the right of Lieut. MOWRY, it would be quite superfluous to urge it at this time, when all the energies of all the friends of Arizona are required, to secure for it that local self-government which its situation demands. Lieut. MOWRY was chosen the agent of the settlers to represent their interest before Congress, by more than six hundred votes, and has served them with a fidelity and efficiency which are gratefully appreciated by them. Whatever favor the project of bestowing upon Arizona a separate organization has received here, is owing to the persevering and well-directed exertions of Lieut. MOWRY, who has given to the enterprise eighteen months of time, and a measure of abilities which few men possess.

Upon one point all are agreed, and Congress ought not to hesitate one moment. A mounted ranger force should be organized for service on the Mexican frontier, between Rio Grande and the Colorado. A regiment of mounted dragoons has just been authorized for the special defence of Texas, where already 4,000 men of the regular army are permanently stationed. Three thousand troops would not be an unreasonable quota for the long line of wilderness and border country, comprised within the limits of Arizona.

The decision of Congress upon the steamship contracts is anxiously expected. The Navy Department has come to no positive determination in respect to the Collins line, but will not probably encourage the resumption of service under that contract. It will expire in two years from June next. The contract for the line from Panama to San Francisco will expire on the 1st of October next. The Post-Office Department believes that it has the right, in the absence of declaratory legislation, to extend the contract for one year. This was done a year ago in reference to the service between New-York and Havre and Bremen. While the whole ocean mail service is thus falling into ruins, and becoming a pillar of scorn to other nations, Congress looks on with stolid contempt, as indifferent to the reputation as to the interests of the country.

The Post-Office Department appears to be of opinion that the service could be well managed by simply applying the $385,000 appropriated for the Collins line, and the $350,000 for the Havre and Bremen line, to the object of procuring the conveyance of a weekly mail between the United States and Europe, upon such terms as should be approved by the Postmaster-General. The gross sum would allow a compensation of $14,000 for each voyage out and back. The pay of the Collins line is $19,000 for each "round trip." The Collins vessels seem to be of a too expensive class for this service. They pine upon our allowance, nearly one-fifth greater than that upon which the Cunarders thrive. The Arago and the Fulton appear to be well adapted to the route on which they are running, since a less rate of speed is essential in connections with the continent than with Liverpool. While our own lines, which in former years were such gratifying triumphs for the country, are languishing for the want of adequate support, the English Government not only maintains its own in apparent prosperity, but is urging upon the United States the expediency of a considerable reduction of ocean postage. Impeachment of Judge Russell.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

ALBANY, Wednesday, May 5—10 P. M.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

I have learned this moment that documents have arrived here for the Governor impeaching Judge RUSSELL, City Judge of your City. The special ground of impeachment, so far as I can learn, is the action of Judge RUSSELL in the late difficulty at the Academy of Music, when Mr. WILKES and his critic, of the sporting paper published in your City, were arrested by order of the City Judge. The papers contain, also, a series of allegations against the Judge bearing a prior date, which the parties interested deem (in connection with the Wilkes affair) sufficient to render his removal necessary. THE SCIENTIFIC ASSOCIATION.

MONDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

AN EXPEDITION TO THE NORTH POLE ORGANIZING—DR. HAYES ON ITS PLAN, ROUTE AND OBJECTS—WHAT IT WILL COST.

The Chairman, at 1½ P. M., introduced to the Assembly Dr. HAYES, of the Kane Arctic Expedition. The Doctor—who is a man of prepossessing personal appearance, not large, though considerably larger than Dr. KANE—was received with repeated rounds of applause. He stated that his purpose in appearing before the Association was to direct attention to a profitable field of scientific inquiry. He announced his firm belief that there was an open Polar Sea beyond the ice-belt that thus far had prevented actual access to the Pole, which was indicated by many discoveries of the Russians above Siberia, of the English above Spitzbergen, and by the Americans through Smith's Strait. The effort to reach the Pole across the ice-belt had been four times seriously essayed: By the Russians in 1810 from the Kolyma, and again in 1822 from the Lena, each time in sledges drawn by dogs; by the English under PARRY in 1827, from Spitzbergen, in boat sledges drawn by men; and by the Americans under Dr. KANE in 1853, in sledges drawn by dogs. The last had been so far successful as to discover an open sea in a latitude north of any point where open water had before been seen, and above the belt of ice.

With regard to this open water, Dr. HAYES stated that by late advices from Europe he had learned that Dr. RINK, of Copenhagen, had appeared before the Royal Geographical Society of London and questioned the discovery. Dr. HAYES had not learned the data upon which Dr. RINK founded his objections, and he would leave all inquiries which might arise upon this point to be assumed by the facts which he would present in the course of his remarks—facts which he believed to be indisputable.

Besides this actual discovery there were many facts which are utterly incapable of exposition except by the confession of such a sea.

1. The bird life of the high Arctic regions. MORTON saw the cliffs of the open sea swarming with water fowl. The speaker had often observed birds flying to the northward over the ice-belt in the Spring, evidently to produce their young in some warmer region, and their instinct would not have drawn them thither unless in that direction open water would be found.

2. That a milder climate prevailed above 78° of latitude was suggested by the Isothermal curves. Of course no one dreamed of finding a torrid climate at the Pole. The speaker conjectured that at the Pole the climate would be found not far unlike that which is experienced on the parallel of 66°.

3. The plants that were gathered by Dr. KANE above 81° indicated a warmer climate than that of several degrees lower. But the climate could only be warmer there owing to the presence of open water at least during a greater annual period than further to the south. The point of extreme cold, he thought to be about 78°.

4. The Esquimaux traditions all point to the North as the place of their origin. It is generally admitted that races deteriorate physically as they stray from the parallel of their nativity. And it is admitted by Arctic travelers that the Esquimaux deteriorate as they go South. The Southern Greenlanders are a diminutive race. Their average height is not more than 5 feet 4 inches. But the average height of the Esquimaux of the North is 5 feet 7 inches. In a single instance, the Doctor had a specimen of them 5 feet 8½ inches high.

6. Numerous observations show that the great body of polar water is permanently above the freezing point. The deep water in Baffin's Bay flows towards the Pole as the northward drift of the deep icebergs shows.

But was it practicable to attempt the exploration of this open sea? Failures had always occurred when the attempts were made by the East of Greenland routes. KANE's route alone, he thought was practicable, and by it he believed there was no insurmountable obstacle to complete success. PARRY's attempt failed because he found that the ice over which he was hurrying, was drifting to the southward so fast as to leave him no headway—an argument in itself to show that beyond it, northward, was some open body of water forcing it down.

Dr. HAYES detailed the course to be pursued to achieve this climax of discovery—to complete the efforts to explore the Polar Sea. The expedition would require two years for its operations, and in view of the rich and valuable experience of the last, he could not but deem it probable that the next attempt would prove successful. There was needed for the expedition one vessel of 100 tons, equipped for two and a half years, and twelve men. It would greatly add to the convenience of the party to be provided with a small steam-tender of 30 tons with a shifting screw; except for the necessity of conveying provisions, even so large a vessel as one of 100 tons would not be necessary. The party should leave the States early in April, giving time to lay in additional fresh provisions on the Greenland coast, and so materially to reduce the cost of outfit. Before the last of August it should push up Smith's Sound to the ice-belt, with the intention of Wintering as high as the 80th parallel if possible. Smith's Sound, fortunately for this route, runs diagonally to the course of the general current—thus operating to keep Grinnell's Land free of floating ice. Under this western shore it might be possible to work the steam-tender through the leads left by the southward drifting ice, even into the heart of the Polar Sea. But this was a doubtful reliance on which they would not too much depend. It would be necessary by three or four journeys with the dog-sledges to make depôts of provision as high in Grinnell's Land as on the 82d parallel. This was perfectly feasible; each dog could be depended on to carry 70 pounds weight, 32 miles a day, on a ration of thirteen ounces of pemmican. In April, the party should leave the vessel, the men conveying the boats upon sledges until (and the inference was that it would be by the middle of May) the ice-belt had been crossed and the open sea reached. Dogs could not drag the boats—they were not competent to the conveyance of any such dead weight. But experience had shown that over the smooth ice, as this was likely to be, men could easily walk 16 miles a day dragging on sledges a weight of 110 pounds for each. To avoid the incumbrance of so much canvas, they would take no tents, but rely for shelter upon the snow-house which could be constructed in an hour, and which was better than the tent for protection. Furs and carbernaceous food must be their reliance for warmth. While traveling the pemmican (dried meat and tallow, of which 4 pound is equal to 14 pounds of green meat) must be the sole reliance as food. The Doctor believed that the climate was eminently a wholesome one. The danger from cold and scurvy had been greatly lessened by the experience of the last few years. Dr. KANE sailed too early to avail himself of the wonderful advantages now furnished in the concentrated fresh meats and vegetables, for protecting from and curing scurvy. Dr. HAYES asked for such an expedition as he had sketched, and to which he was desirous of devoting himself, the counsel and sympathy of the American Scientific Association. Should it succeed the immense advantages to science were obvious.

He hoped to winter far to the northward of his vessel in a snow-house, and with the aid of a team of dogs, to determine something with reference to the midwinter condition of the Circumpolar See. Dr. RAE had spent two Winters in the snow-house without any fire for purposes of warmth. Dr. HAYES himself had passed the months of October, November and December in a snow-house, using no fire whatever for purposes of warmth.

The gains to the Flora of the North might be surmised if gentlemen should see Dr. KANE's account of the collection of plants that they were compelled to leave in the Advance. To natural history, in other departments, naturalists would perceive the wonderful results that are probable. The bones of the musk-ox, that had been found, gave indications that this animal—extinct in the lower latitudes—still abounds in the higher and unexplored Northern regions. Whale, which have lately been fast disappearing from about Baffin's Bay and Spitzbergen, he conjectured had been driven through the loose ice of the belt into their ice-locked circumpolar fortress. KANE saw white whale passing from the South northward through Wellington Channel in October. MORTON saw seal disporting in the open sea at a time of year so early that they could not have forced their way through the ice, and, of course, they could not have gone under it; here, probably, was the central home of the seal, white and right whale, the walrus, &c. Nor was there less prospect of abundant discoveries as to the lower orders of marine life.

The study it would afford of the great Glacial System in Greenland, that birthplace and cradle of millions of tons of berg discharge that annually is pressed southward into the sea, geologists would appreciate. It was an opportunity to study the phenomena of drift, as it now goes on, under the very circumstances that it was going on under in our own Northern States ages ago. The Speaker pronounced a fine eulogy on Dr. KANE, and made a graceful acknowledgment of the labors of the Coast Survey, under Superintendent BACHE. He concluded with the remark that the line of approach to the North Pole which he had indicated was ours by right of discovery. While, said he, our flag is being conveyed to the unknown wilds of the Rocky Mountains, the Cordilleras and the Andes, under the shades of the palms and magnolias of the broad Amazon, over the pampas of the Parana and La Plata, while it bears to every quarter of the world the olive-branch of peaceful enterprise and scientific research, we should not be unmindful that it now floats over the black and rocky heights of the most northern of our own planet, inviting effort.

Dr. HAYES sat down amidst long-continued applause. The hall was crowded when he began, and none left till he closed, though he was speaking more than an hour. No applause had interrupted the course of his remarks, but there was a silence that strangely compared with the noise, the echoes and reverberating tread of feet in and out that at almost every preceding session was so annoying. When he ceased Professor HITCHCOCK rose and offered a resolution referring the paper to a Select Committee of seven to report upon the expediency of uniting with Dr. HAYES, in his efforts to fit out an Arctic expedition, which promised so much to science and the world. The Professor prefaced it with some remarks upon the value of the geological aspects of the proposed expedition. The prospect of a more familiar acquaintance with the glacier system, and its agency in producing the marvelous phenomena of drift—which has left its marks upon every mountain ledge of Canada and New-England—had evidently warmed his enthusiasm, and assured him of its extraordinary promise. The resolution was further urged, and unanimously passed. The Association seemed quite willing to commit itself to the project of Dr. HAYES. It is understood that he hopes to organize his expedition by the Spring of 1860, and does not anticipate that it will cost, in money, over $30,000.

The Association then adjourned. F. T.

Amusements.

The theatrical season is drawing rapidly to a close, and artists of all denominations are preparing for a migratory flight to other shores. Mr. BURTON announces that the present campaign will terminate on Saturday—a hard-fought one, and not more than Crimean in its results, we fear. The Broadway is already closed—when to reopen we know not. Mr. MARSHALL has not been prosperous in his operatic business, and a depleted exchequer may keep the doors of his theatre closed for an unnecessary length of time. Thus are we punished for the shortcomings of the right-angled city of brotherly love. Mr. NIBLO intends, we believe, to give a dramatic season during the Summer months, and will commence operations immediately after the RAVELS have taken their final departure—Miss CUSHMAN being one of his "stars." We wish him a prosperous cruise. At WALLACK's they have several pieces in active preparation, and on the success of these the duration of the season will probably depend. The long-promised drama of "Brigham Young" is to be produced during the ensuing week. For scenic display it will be remarkable. Concerning the doings of the fair LAURA we hear nothing. It is to be hoped that she will keep open sufficiently long to reimburse herself the heavy losses sustained in the earlier and less prosperous portions of the season. But we may add, that if all the theatres were to do the same for a like reason, there would be but little repose for artists during the hot weather. It has been a question of simple endurance with the managers, and the only triumph that they can boast is the very legitimate one that, despite all disasters, they have kept open, and paid their employes—more or less. Mr. EDDY, of the Bowery Theatre, has, we believe, prospered beyond this. He boasts, and with a proper pride, that he has not only kept the business of his theatre going, but that he has paid his artists in full. Energetic management, indefatigable industry, and a quick perception of what the public wanted, were the gallant accessories to this brilliant achievement.

Mr. ULLMAN, like a careful ornithologist, is preparing his nets prior to a foray in European countries for the caputre of singing birds. This looks like Opera next season, but may mean concert. Let us hope for the best, and take what we can get. We do not hear any more of Mr. FORMES' departure. Apart from operatic considerations, there is so much in this country to interest the great basso, that we may be permitted to doubt if he will think of leaving it for some time to come. We hope that Mrs. HOEY, who sails for Europe in two or three weeks, will not be tempted by similar reasons to remain in England or France beyond the limits of a strictly sanitary vacation.

Opera being frizzled out of Havana, and frozen out of Philadelphia, and frightened out of Mexico, that redoubtable chef, MAXIMILIUS MARETZEK, finds himself hors d'orchestre. It is not, however, in the nature of the gentleman to be idle; and, when he is silent, we may safely conclude that, like Lord BURGHLEY, he is thinking prodigiously. It is said that Mr. MARETZEK contemplates a short season, with a few of his principal artists, but we have heard nothing definite on the subject.

CHARITY CONCERT.—Mr. BAGIOLI's pupils will give a charity concert this evening at Dodworth's Saloon. A very long and effective programme of Italian music will be interpreted by the classes, and the advanced pupils of this distinguished maestro.

Sea and Ship News.

The vessel reported in the foreign news by the Europa as fallen in with abandoned, and a mate and three men put on board by the Louise at Queenstown, is supposed to have been the ship Harvest Queen, from this port April 4 for Liverpool. She belongs to CHAS. H. MARSHALL's line of Liverpool and New-York packets. There is but one ship Forest Queen, and she is an English vessel in the Australian trade, and known to be in the Indian Ocean. The ship Forest Eagle, of Rockland, Me., cleared at New-Orleans March 14 for Liverpool, and had not arrived at last accounts.

The steamship Moses Taylor, Capt. MCGOWAN, left yesterday for Aspinwall, at 2 o'clock, P. M., with the usual number of passengers, and the California mails. The Star of the West is not due until the 13th inst.

The British screw-steamer New-York, Captain MCMILLAN, left yesterday, for Glasgow, with 46 cabin passengers, and 119 in the steerage.

At the Navy Yard.

The whole number of men now on the rolls at the Navy Yard is 14,401 in all departments. There are on board the North Carolina 800 all told. One half of this number will be taken by the Wabash, to sail shortly for the Mediterranean; her officers are to report on the 15th inst. The work upon the frigate Savannah is progressing, she is about ready to receive her lower masts and bowsprit. The mainmast, which was moved into position yesterday morning to be hoisted on board, required eight yokes of oxen to transport it suspended between a pair of immense wheels.

The work on the new ways is in a state of forwardness. The crew of the Varina, lately returned from the survey of the inter-oceanic canal route viâ the Atrato River, has been paid off.

The Susquehanna, at the lower anchorage, has had her lower yards and topmasts sent down, and everything made snug. Twenty-nine colored persons who were shipped on board of her at Jamaica, as firemen, coal-heavers, nurses, &c., were yesterday discharged from Quarantine; the commander agreed to provide for their passage back to Jamaica, paying them wages until they reached home. An effort was made to send them home by the Moses Taylor, but as that steamer does not now call at Jamaica, they are to be sent by the next sail vessel. None of these colored persons have been sick, notwithstanding they were exposed to disease by taking care of the sick, and were always kept hard at work in the lower parts of the ship.

City Items.

The Harlem Steam Navigation Company, which placed a little passenger boat called the Sylvan Shore on the route from this City to Harlem, a year ago, in opposition to the Railroad, have found the experiment so satisfactory that they had another built—almost a copy of the first—to run in conjunction with her. She is called the Sylvan Grove, and was built by THOMAS COLYER. The two will perform hourly trips, commencing on the 17th inst., beginning at 6 o'clock A. M., and ending at 7 o'clock P. M.

SURROGATE'S COURT.—The will of Mrs. ELIZA MOSER, deceased, was yesterday admitted to probate. It was not contested.

The Transatlantic Telegraph Cable.

Correspondence of the Philadelphia Pennsylvanian.

U. S. S. FRIGATE NIAGARA,
PLYMOUTH, Eng., April 15, 1858.

We are progressing slowly with the cable. Stoppages are frequent, and in answer to our inquiries we are told that it is caused by experiments; but the real cause is, we coil much faster on board our vessel than they do on board the Agamemnon, and to prevent our getting ahead of them, they cause a delay.

We have now on board over five hundred (500) miles; on board the Agamemnon they have between six (600) and seven (700) hundred miles, but it is not coiled as well as the cable on board this vessel.

The machinery for paying out the cable will be completed in a few days, when it is the intention of the Directors to invite Engineers of known ability to inspect it while in operation. This is, in my opinion, all very well so far as it goes; but no Engineer in England or America can give an unbiased opinion unless he sees it in operation at sea.

Orders were received by Captain HUDSON to examine every foot of the wire as it came on board; but as this would prevent the expedition sailing this season, it was discontinued. Orders have been received from the Admiralty, to have placed on board all cones, circles, &c., &c., that may be required for the stowing of the cable.

The guard on the stern, to prevent the cable coming in contact with the propeller, will be so arranged as to lift when the ship is going ahead and lowered when going astern; the one at present attached to the Agamemnon will be removed, and one similar to the Niagara's substituted. The machinery for paying out the cable is now being placed on board.

At an adjourned meeting of the Montreal Board of Trade, held on Wednesday last, the subject of harbor improvements came up for discussion. The Commissioners had made a survey of the various harbor localities, with the view of providing increased accommodation, and suggested certain improvements.

General William Walker in New-Orleans.

General WALKER publishes, in the New-Orleans papers, a note addressed to Senator SLIDELL:

NEW-ORLEANS, Saturday, April 27, 1858.

SIR: I have read a printed copy of your speech, delivered in the Senate on the 8th inst., sent to a gentleman of this city under your frank. It is, therefore, a copy, I presume, approved by yourself.

In that speech you take occasion to assail my public character. You industriously disclaim any intention to asperse my private reputation; and I am, therefore, obliged to consider your language concerning me as used in a political sense, and for political purposes.

Considered in this light, justice to the cause I represent compels me to say that your speech, so far as it relates to my acts, is a tissue of misstatements, and that its insinuations are as false as its facts are groundless.

Your obedient servant,
WILLIAM WALKER.

The Hon. JOHN SLIDELL.

The 27th ultimo was the day fixed for the trial of Gen. WALKER, Captains FRANK ANDERSON, WEST and MCMICHAEL, and Lieut. BELCHER, in the United States Circuit Court at New-Orleans, on the indictment for violation of the neutrality laws. The Crescent says:

"The defendants were all present, with their counsel, Mr. SOULE, and ready for trial; but the Court was not ready. Judge MCCALEB stated that as Judge CAMPBELL, who would have to sit in the case, was at Washington, he would have to continue the case indefinitely; but he believed that Judge CAMPBELL would be back by the fourth Monday in May, and that the case would be taken up without further delay.

General WALKER addressed the Court for himself and comrades, stating that they would like to have some particular day fixed, that they might know how to govern themselves in their private business affairs, which called them out of town. He stated that the case, hanging over them, as at present, in an indefinite manner, prevented them from moving about, and subjected them to great inconvenience and expense; that he believed the case had assumed more of a political than a judicial aspect, the United States District-Attorney himself having stated that he had no hope of procuring a conviction. The General concluded by asking the Judge to fix the case on some particular day.

The District-Attorney, Mr. SEMMES, was 'brought up all standing' by the General's remarks. He immediately addressed the Court, expressing his surprise that a chance expression which dropped from him in private conversation should thus be brought up in Court; and that, so far from his holding no hope of conviction, he did think that there was enough internal evidence to convict the defendants, though public opinion might have great influence upon the Jury.

After further discussion, and with the agreement of the District-Attorney, and Mr. SOULE, the case was continued to the fourth Monday in May, with the understanding that if Judge CAMPBELL should arrive and be ready for trial sooner, the defendants should be fairly apprised of the fact in time. The defendants departed, under a renewal of their previous bonds."

WEDNESDAY, May 5—P. M.

We are favored this afternoon with the Custom-House returns of the Foreign Trade at this port for the month of April. The Import entries fall off one-half as compared with April last season, and for the ten months of the Treasury Year, the decrease reaches forty-six millions dollars; nearly the whole of which has occurred since 1st January. At this time last year, a large proportion of the entries went into Bonded Warehouse to await the operation of the New Tariff on the 1st July. This season the withdrawals from Bond are larger than the entries bonded. And this has been the case for several months past. Turning to the Export list for April, it will be seen that the clearances of Domestic Produce are slightly in excess of last season, while the shipments of Specie have fallen to $646,285 for the month, as against $3,304,805 in April last year. On the ten months of the Treasury Year, our Domestic Exports, as compared with 1857, lose about nineteen millions, while, including Specie and the reëxportation of Foreign Merchandise, the general list is only $13,145,000 short of 1857. Our Gold tables for the ten months show that there has been received at New-York in Bullion:

From California	$29,106,000
Europe, Mexico, &c	8,894,000
Together	$38,000,000
And that the Export is	31,936,000
Gain to Banks from abroad	$6,064,000
Gain from Sub-Treasury	11,263,000
Gain from the Interior	5,728,000
Total increase in Bank	$23,055,000

Present Bank reserve, $35,064,214.

The entries of Foreign Goods at the port of New-York, for the month of April, were:

In Dutiable Goods, consumption direct	$5,837,546
Dutiable Goods, Warehoused	2,148,241
Free Goods	2,658,381
Total entries	$10,644,168
Against April, 1857	20,279,100
Decrease April, 1858	$9,634,932

The amount of Goods withdrawn from Bond uring the month was $3,203,539, or $1,055,298 more than went into Warehouse; so that the amount of Goods actually marketed during the month is made $11,699,466, as against $14,398,273 actually marketed in April, 1857. There was also entered in April, Foreign Bullion and Specie to the value of $524,857.

The Exports from the port of New-York, in the month of April, were:

In Domestic Produce		$5,513,117
Foreign reëxports		586,809
Specie		646,285
Total of all Exports		$6,746,211
Against April, 1857—
In Produce	$5,162,160
Reëxports	509,985
Specie	3,354,805	—$9,026,950
Decrease in all Exports		$2,280,739

We annex our usual monthly Import, Export, and California gold tables, commencing with the current Treasury year, July 1, 1857, and comparing with the corresponding ten months of the previous Treasury year.

IMPORT OF FOREIGN GOODS AT NEW-YORK.

Correspondence of the New-York Times:

WASHINGTON, Saturday evening, May 1, 1858.

The transfer of the Kansas question from the Capitoline Hill to the "grave-yard of Governors" has been the engrossing topic during the week now drawing to a close, and, as I write, the Marine Band are playing "Hail Columbia" beneath the window of Senator BROWN, of Mississippi. They began the evening's performances by serenading President BUCHANAN, who gave them in return a very pretty speech of thanks, from a second-story window of the Executive Mansion, and then successively introduced Messrs. TOOMBS, GWIN, CLAY and LETCHER. What with the speaking, the music, the frequent discharge of a six-pounder, and the cheers of that "noble army of martyrs," the office-holders, it was quite a tableau.

Miss LANE is still absent at Philadelphia, but the President took her place this morning, and "received" for three hours, during which time there was a constant throng of gentlemen and ladies, who were "presented" in due form. He was in excellent spirits, and seemed delighted at being able to say that he will sign the bill on Monday. Indeed, I suppose that never, since the struggle of JACKSON vs. BIDDLE, has a President entered into a political contest with such Teutonic determination as the "Sage of Wheatland" has shown in putting through this Kansas bill.

A large number of those who have participated in the rejoicings are the fortunate securers of mail-contracts at the "lettings" just concluded. We of the old Northern States pay heavy contributions to the Post Office treasury, the "pickings" of which keep in existence partisan newspapers and enrich partisan mail-contractors. These individuals are generally truculent-looking fellows, with immense beards, and enough chains, rings and pins about their persons to set up a jewelry store with. For a week prior to the "lettings," there was an enormous deal of log-rolling and wire-pulling among them; but, generally speaking, such satisfactory arrangements were made that there was no dangerous competition, and "all went merry as a marriage bell." Upwards of thirty thousand "bids" were examined, recorded and decided upon.

When all was concluded, the contractors engaged a full band, and took advantage of a pleasant moonlight evening to serenade the Postmaster-General, "from whom all contracts flow." Governor BROWN acknowledged the compliment by a very neat speech, and then threw his house open to the party. A hastily-prepared but bountiful collation was spread in the dining-room, while in the parlor Mrs. BROWN and her charming daughter, Miss SAUNDERS, entertained the more gallant of the guests. As the party were serenading the President, later in the night, a few "roughs" endeavored to create a disturbance, whereupon one of the contractors felled one of them like an ox, fracturing his skull. The next day the contractor visited the Infirmary, and gave the wounded man $150, having previously sent the same sum to his wife. Arabella considers this noble and generous, but others are of opinion that justice should not be blinded with "eagles," even though those mediums of lawful tender may have a powerful effect in healing a broken pate.

This evening one of the contractors gave a banquet at GAUTIER's, to about fifty Congressional and other friends. Judge DOUGLAS was the life of the party, and everybody had a good time. Speaking of the Judge, Arabella thinks it was very kind of Mrs. DOUGLAS to call in her carriage and give Mrs. COX a drive, on the evening after the member from Ohio had been so badgered in the House about his vote.

We have had a so-called Musical Convention here this week, gotten up on the plan of the Art-Convention, but vastly more successful. The conductors were Messrs. BRADBURY and ROOT, of New-York, who were engaged at a fixed salary to come on, and the delegates (?) were from the church choirs of this District, with a few outsiders who kindly "represented" different States. It concluded with two concerts, the receipts of which footed the bills.

Speaking of the Art-Convention, it is whispered about that the scheme to put the autocrat "in charge" of the capitol extension at the head of a "commission" has been abandoned, and it is now proposed to give that position to Mr. WALTER, the architect of the capitol, a very worthy gentleman. ORTELLE, like every other artist who has been in the service of Capt. MEIGS, has retired in disgust, and the Italian daubsters have it all their own way.

You will see in the hand-organ Star (in return for the employment of its proprietor's brother-in-law by the autocrat "in charge") appeals to Congress to pass additional appropriations without delay, and thus prevent the discharge of all the laborers. It appears that the mighty MEIGS has squandered the money on his fresco daubs, his imported tiles, his mausoleum-like marble rooms, his distorted busts and his flashing painting and gilding. Congress have now blindly to vote more money for the completion of the walls and the roof. Let those who vote aye be held responsible.

On Thursday evening, Governor FLOYD had a most agreeable gathering of gentlemen at his house, and entertained them with a sumptuous supper. Arabella wishes me, however, to enter her protests against these gentlemen's parties, which are becoming more frequent every month. As to the idea that the present style of ladies' dresses prevents their being invited to some houses with narrow staircases, she repudiates it.

Friday—the day on which the Senate and the House (to use the gambling slang of Mr. LETCHER) "each held a hand of nine, and a hand of nine is hard to beat,"—Mr. SICKLES had a dinner-party at his residence in Lafayette-square. On dit that the representative of the Third New-York District may be sent to Madrid, if any way can be found to make the present Minister Dodge from his post.

There was a "May Ball," too, or rather the exhibition of a dancing-master, who made his juvenile pupils execute a variety of dances, called national, and finished with the coronation of a young girl after the most approved Anglo-Saxon ritual. The floral pageantry was artificial, and the maidens not only wore hooped-skirts, but were rouged up to the eyes, at least I am so informed by Arabella.

Next week we are to have several parties, and a fancy-ball, sub rosa. The ingratitude shown in return for the favors heaped upon "Jenkins" at Mrs. GWIN's has made everyone here shy as to how they tolerate that ubiquitous individual. This week, by the way, he has been at Baltimore, reveling in accounts of the parties given to the Scientific Association, and publishing his accounts in the American, the very paper which, not long since, read a homily to Arabella and myself for our gossip!

The Government of the United States Agricultural Society has been in session during the week, and decided to hold their great national fair this Fall at Baltimore, if any where. This Society has now rooms at No. 356 Pennsylvania-avenue, with a library, and other geoponic attractions, and it publishes a Monthly Bulletin of all national Agricultural operations.

At the theatre, we have had Miss AVONIA JONES, who possesses histrionic talent of a high order, and is young and pretty besides. Her Juliet, played to her mother's Romeo, is the best delineation of the sad representatives of the houses of the Capulets and the Montagues now on the American stage. She is the embodiment of SHAKESPEARE's ideal—a living, breathing, blushing, loving maid of Verona.

Among other Yankee notions, I have to chronicle the arrival of a delegation of ten Boston Aldermen, who have come southward ostensibly to see about the quarantine system and the location of their City Post-office, but really to enjoy balmy Spring, with its verdant vegetation—especially the fragrant mint. To-morrow, with true puritanical zeal, they attend church in a body at the capitol. "Let us prey."

Vice-President BRECKINRIDGE returned last night to his quarters in this city, looking all the better for his journey, and probably delighted that the Kansas question is banished from Washington, where he has been placed between two fires.

The scandal-mongers here have been very busy over a scene which occurred a few days since, at the palatial residence of a retired banker. Not fancying a young Secretary of the Spanish Legation, who had shown marked attention to his only daughter, the millionnaire gave the gentleman to understand, distinctly, that he did not desire his company. At the same time, the maitre d'hotel was instructed to keep a strict eye on the lady's maid. So when the millionnaire went to dine at a Senator's, the vigilant Cerberus, discovered that a note had been sent to the Hidalgo and straight-way notified his master. The Hidalgo arrived, but soon after him came the millionnaire, accompanied by a friend, and a search resulted in the discovery of the "lovyers" in the picture gallery. Grand Tableau! Followed by the forcible expulsion of the Hidalgo, minus his hat, and with the impression of a boot-toe upon his sacred person. Talk of challenge—reconciliation—peutêtre a wedding hereafter. Out of all of which a repudiated correspondent hopes to [illegible] himself into the good graces of his old employer, and as the matter is thus bfeore the public, I send you a true version of it. Arabella is filled with indignation, and sympathizes with the Hidalgo, in which she but thinks as do all the wearers of crinoline, while anxious parents and eclipsed suitors espouse the cause of the millionnaire.

Meeting of West Washington Marketmen.

A meeting of marketmen who do business in that part of Washington Market which occupies the made land west of West-street was held, yesterday afternoon, in the Market, for the purpose of receiving the report of a Committee previously appointed to consider the question whether the State or the City is the rightful owner of the property. The marketmen claim that when the property was leased to Messrs. TAYLOR & BRENNAN by the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund the State transcended its authority. The property they claim belongs to the City, for by the City the land was filled in and the piers and bulkheads erected. The rent which the lessees under the State are to pay by the terms of their contract is $5,000, and this, it is claimed, is much less than the use of the property for a year is worth. The docks alone now bring in as large an income to the City, and the whole ground rents for about $900 per week, amounting to over $45,000 per annum. The yearly income derived from the market wagons, whose owners pay a shilling each for permission to occupy a space within the limits of the market, amounts to some $4,000 more. Pier No. 21, a part of the property, was leased for five years from the 1st of May last passed, to the New-York and Hamburg Steamship Company at $4,200 a year. On the other hand, the lessees under the State say that inasmuch as the made land lies outside of the boundary line of the Montgomery Charter, the property belongs to the State, and the City has no jurisdiction over it. The property covers an area equal to ninety-two full lots.

It was made on speculation some years ago by constructing a bulkhead between Vesey and Dey streets, and filling in the intermediate space. The bulkhead and filling in cost the City from $60,000 to $80,000. This land is divided into stall lots 8 by 16 feet, which rent for from $2 to $3 a week each, according to location. The amount of rent is merely nominal, and does not represent the value of the stands, some of which are transferred from one party to another by private arrangement at very high prices. The sum of $1,000 is considered very reasonable, as a bonus for the good will of a stand, and there is one for which the present lessees paid $2,300. The best stands are quite large, including several stall lots. The transferring party can give no security whatever for the continuance of the lease to the purchaser, as that is practically renewed from week to week, and is dependent on the will of the City Inspector. The market people have been in the habit of paying their rent each week to Mr. GOODHEART, the City Inspector's Clerk, and they say that until the Courts of law decide that they hold under the State they will continue to pay rent to the City. Comptroller FLAGG claims that the new charter gives him the right to collect the rents. Last Thursday Messrs TAYLOR and BRENNAN gave notice to the marketmen that they must vacate the premises. This the latter had no idea of doing. They have held several meetings, at one of which a Standing Committee was appointed, into whose hands the interests of the dealers was committed.

The following are the names of the Committee: James Eadie, S. A. Bogert, Francis Wilkinson, Jos. Jamieson, James Rossbottom, R. W. Woodruff, Isaac D. Garmo, Wm. Johnson, Mr. Taylor, N. F. Henry.

The meeting yesterday was called to order by SEAMAN M. BOGERT, Esq., at 3½ o'clock. The Secretary, W. A. WOODRUFF, Esq., read the following:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED BY THE DEALERS IN WEST WASHINGTON MARKET.

NEW-YORK, May 5, 1858.

Your Committee respectfully beg leave to report as follows: We called on the Mayor and Deputy Corporation Counsel this morning, and they informed us that they would protect our rights in every way, and advised us not to recognize Messrs. TAYLOR & BRENNAN in any manner. And if they attempt to eject any one from their stands they will have to proceed in a lawful way and sue out a writ of ejectment and serve it upon the occupant of the stand. Any person who shall receive a writ of this kind will give it to the Committee and they will hand it to the Mayor and Corporation Counsel who will see that the stand owner is protected in everything.

Your Committee, therefore, recommend that we do not, in any shape or manner, recognize any authority but the City of New-York until further advice. If, after this is settled, and Messrs. TAYLOR & BRENNAN do establish their title to the land lawfully, we are perfectly willing to recognize them and receive leases of them at a fair price; but until their claim is fully established, we are bound to recognize only the City of New-York

JAMES EADIE,
S. M. BOGERT.

The report was adopted.

Mr. OTIS offered a resolution declaring that each man should pledge himself to stand by the Committee in the views expressed by them in their report, to bear a proportionate share of whatever expenses may accrue in the maintenance of the rights contended for, and not to act individually without the advice of the Standing Committee.

An amendment in favor of a written pledge, to the same effect, to be signed by all, was carried, and a Committee of thirteen was appointed to obtain the signatures of the Market men.

Ex-Councilman TAYLOR made a few remarks in favor of the resolution, urging the men to stand together as a body and support the Committee. The meeting then adjourned to 3½ P. M. to-day.

Mr. BRENNAN, one of the lessees under the State, visited the Market men at 2 o'clock yesterday, and notified them that they must get leases from him during that day or the next.

THE COOPER INSTITUTE.—It was reported that the Cooper Institute, now nearly completed, would be opened on the 3d of May. Upon inquiry as to how the rumor originated, it seems to have no other foundation than the fact that Mr. COOPER has agreed to allow the Home Missionary Society, and, we believe, the Young Men's Christian Association, as well as other religious bodies, the use of the basement for their anniversaries, which transpire in this month. The first use of this nature will be on the 10th inst, and, of course, it is only a temporary arrangement.

Every resident in the City is familiar with the appearance of the building, which, in comparison with the rapidity of the erection of other structures, has been very slowly progressing to completion. Its situation is central, and it forms a conspicuous object to passengers up the Third and Fourth avenues, being situate at the junction of both, between Seventh and Eighth streets, occupying the entire block. The building is of Connecticut brown stone, and is five stories in height. On Third-avenue it extends 200 feet; on Eighth-street 140 feet, and on Seventh-street, 86 feet. A portico, with arches and pillars, decorates the building on Eighth-street. Granite stairways lead to the second story. The entrances to the basement are beneath the stairs, and here there is a lecture-room 125 feet long, 82 feet wide, and 21 feet high, comprising an area of more than 10,000 square feet.

There is a large kitchen and offices for a refectory. There are nine rooms on the first story suitable for stores. Flights of stone stairways lead from the south side to the several stories. The third story comprises a large hall 125 feet long, 82 wide, and 32 feet in height, with a gallery on pillars, and a central dome. On the eastern side are 8 rooms, which may serve for sculpture or pictures. The fourth story is suitable for lecture rooms, a library, and for the general purposes of artists and students. Nearly a million pounds of iron have been used in the construction of this edifice, which is fire-proof. It is proposed to fix a revolving astronomical observatory in the centre of the south front, to be supported on iron columns reaching down as low as the foundation. When the minor details are fully complete, its inauguration, which cannot be much longer delayed, will form a noticeable epoch in the history of the City.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

Alleged Attempt to Defraud the Post-Office Department—Examination before Commissioner Betts.

The case of WM. FULLER, charged with an attempt to negotiate a forged draft upon the Post-Office department, was resumed yesterday before Mr. Commissioner BETTS. The arrest was made a week ago. The draft was for $5,000, dated Nov. 1, 1834, purporting to be drawn by JAMES REESIDE, lately an mail contractor, and a partner of FULLER, upon the late Postmaster General, WM. T. BARRY, and to have been accepted by the then Treasurer of the Department, Mr. O. B. BROWN. Mr. JOHN B. MURRAY, one of the witnesses called, swore to the fact that FULLER handed the draft to him for collection, with an affidavit that it had been presented at the department for payment, and recognized as correct. The draft was sent to Washington to ascertain if all was right, and was returned to Mr. MURRAY, with a statement from the Department that it was a forgery, and recommending that FULLER should be arrested. The prosecution attempt to prove that this draft is one of five of the same date and amount that have been fraudulently uttered. One which was collected by HOWLAND & ASPINWALL, about a year since; one allowed as an offset in a suit with J. PETERS & Co. and one to T. BUTLER KING, in settlement of accounts. The defendant alleges that the draft is genuine. Mr. R. D. HOLMES appeared as his counsel, and Mr. JOACHIMSSEN for the Government.

John E. Reeside, a son of the alleged maker of the draft, was the first witness: He testified that he lives in Washington; was a mail contractor; knew O. B. Brown, the Treasurer of the Post-Office Department, from 1833 to 1835, and who knew B. F. Barry, the Postmaster-General, in 1833–4; Mr. James Reeside was his father, who died in 1842; was acquainted with the handwriting of his father, and of Mr. Brown; the draft being shown to witness, purporting to be signed by Mr. Reeside, and indorsed by Mr. Brown, he said neither of the signatures were genuine; he was his father's clerk during his lifetime; he was fifteen years old in 1834; was engaged in study, and attending to his father's business; he first saw this draft in Washington, a few days back; it was in the hands of a clerk in a banking-house, who playfully said to him, "I wish you would pay this;" he next saw it at the office of Riggs & Co.; he examined it closely on several occasions; pronounced it a forgery when it was first shown to him; he had compared it with several genuine notes, drafts and letters.

Q.—What was the object of these comparisons if you was sure it was a forgery? A.—To make assurance doubly sure, and to explain the difference to gentlemen who were present; he held a conversation on Monday with Peter G. Washington, who was lately assistant secretary of the Treasury, as to the genuineness of this paper, not with respect to the guilt of the prisoner; never before or since; his father died in September, 1842; the character of his signature did not fluctuate until he became very sick, and was confined to his bed; he was sick for 18 months; Mr. Brown has been dead four or five years; he was connected with my father in mail contracts; witness knew Wm. A. Bradley; his father, Mr. Bradley, and the defendant were once partners in business, carrying mails for the Government; he knew of no difficulties between them and the Government; there were difficulties with his father; drafts made upon the Post-Office Department by his father were dishonored in many instances; he had not seen them in the market; he had some of them now in his possession; had also seen some paid in the Department; had never seen but one of these drafts in the hands of any party except himself; he did not know Mr. A. Ashley, of Augusta, Ga.

Q.—Do you know that the defendant received from your father a draft on the Government at some time for $5,000? A.—I know it from seeing the receipt of defendant, and I think his affidavit accompanied it. The witness was required to produce the receipt; and he promised to forward it to Mr. Joachimssen, or to the Commissioner.

Witness—The receipt, I think, was somewhere between 1834 and 1841; I never saw the draft described in that receipt; if paid it would be in the archives of the Department; I have not looked there since seeing this draft; my attention was drawn to that draft by a suit in New-York; I do not know what became of that draft; there is still a claim on the part of our estate on the Treasury; there has been a sum of money retained by the Secretary of the Treasury from the sum appropriated for the relief of Mary Reeside, which is alleged to be retained to reimburse the Government for two drafts alleged to be paid by it, and a third draft now pending between Butler King and the United States, which Mr. King alleges he purchased of Mr. Fuller; the balance above these retentions has been paid over to the estate.

Q.—How many heirs are there, or persons entitled to take of your father's estate? A.—My mother is a sole devisee; there are three children, and representatives of another child; my mother is about seventy years of age, and has not married since my father's decease; I have not been told that if this draft is declared to be genuine, and is paid by the Government, that my father's estate will have to respond to it. (The papers were shown to witness.)

Q.—Do you recognize the signatures on these papers, marked 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and state if the name James Reeside subscribed upon them, are in your father's hand-writing? A.—Exhibit one is; two is; I do not think three is; four, I think, is; five is.

Mr. Holmes said he offered these papers in evidence to test the witness' knowledge of the signature. Adjourned.

May 5.—Direct examination of John Reeside resumed—From 1834 on, I have seen my father write frequently, and have seen his papers; I think I saw Mr. Brown write in 1834; since that time I have examined his letters to father, and also his acceptance of drafts; I know the handwriting of Mr. Fuller; I have seen him write; I know it well enough to form and express an opinion; in extract A the W in Washington at the top bears a resemblance to Fuller's writing; also the W in Wm. T. Barry; also the T in W. T. Barry, and the T at commencement of Treasury; also the F on the back, at the bottom; also the N in the date of draft bears a decided resemblance to Fuller's writing; extract 1 is in father's handwriting—the body; extract 2 also; extract 3 is not—the body; the signature bears a slight resemblance to father's; extract 4 is in father's handwriting—the body; also extract 5; I know of drafts drawn by the partnership, only, by Reeside; I know of no draft passed by Reeside to the partnership, unless the one referred to in Fuller's statement and receipt, which I suppose to be the one set up in the Peter's suit; I know of a suit between my father and Government; it was tried in the Fall of 1841, in Philadelphia, in the United States Court, before Judge Baldwin; I was not present.

Q.—Have you ever heard of the existence of this draft before you saw it in Washington a few days ago? A.—I never did.

Cross-examination resumed—Q.—Look at the body of Ex. No 3, and state if you have not seen a duplicate or counterpart of the paper at the Orphans' Court in the City of Philadelphia, the same being there as an exhibit; or have you not seen such a paper before certain auditors appointed by that Court? A.—I have seen an article of agreement wherein Reeside appoints Fuller his agent for Georgia similar to this, (Ex. 3,) but I can't say whether identically the same, before the auditors; I believe I have read the paper myself; I think I found that paper in the vault of the Bank of North America, of Philadelphia, but I don't exactly recollect; there is a claim now pending before the auditors against father's estate on the part of Fuller—a large amount; Fuller has submitted several claims varying from $7,000 to $27,000; the estate is defending the claim, and I, as agent for the estate, am using all legal measures to defeat the claim; it is almost a year since Fuller and I have been on speaking terms; we never ceased to be on speaking terms by consent or action of mine; Fuller's claim was first made within three years to my knowledge.

John B. Murray, sworn—Am a Banker at No. 40 Wall-st.; I know defendant; I never carried out any transactions with him; I have had one or two propositions from him, but not consummated; I think I have seen exhibit A before; I have seen a document like it; a document of this kind was presented to me by Fuller; Mr. Fuller said he would like to sell the draft which he presented to me; I said I would endeavor to negotiate it; the draft was brought to me April 22d last; I showed it to one or two gentlemen in the City; I then sent it to Riggs & Co., at Washington, the same day, (April 22,) requesting them to see if it was regular; exhibit B, G. F. B., is a copy of the letter I wrote to Riggs & Co., with the draft; Mr. Fuller called on Saturday, April 24, at my request; I told him I understood Government refused to pay interest on old drafts, and that I wanted some proof that it was presented at maturity, so that I could collect interest if Government paid the principal; he told me to draw up such an affidavit as I wanted, and he would swear to it; I then proposed exhibit C, G. F. B., and Mr. Fuller took it out and returned it to me in the condition in which it now is; exhibit D, G. F. B, is a copy of the letter which I sent to Riggs & Co., indorsing the affidavit; exhibit C, I have no recollection that the draft presented to me by Mr. Fuller had on it any erased indorsements such as exhibit A has in the indorsement of A. Sibley or C. Miner, but they might have been on and escaped my notice or recollection; and it was the duty of my clerk in making the copy (part of exhibit C) to have copied such indorsements, even if erased, had they been on the draft; also, I never saw or noticed the writing of "F., Nov. 1, 1834," on the foot of the back of the draft, exhibit A.

Adjourned to May 6, 11 A. M.

Decision in Admiralty.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.

Before Judge Betts.

PRACTICE—SUPPLEMENTAL LIBEL—DISCHARGE OF PROPERTY ON STIPULATION—REARREST.

Richard Rostron vs. The Bark Vickery.—In this action the vessel was attached on April 8, 1856, and on the same day was discharged from custody on a bond being given by the claimant, under the act of March 3, 1847. On the 29th of March, 1858, the libelant filed a supplemental libel in the cause, and prayed process of arrest against the Bark, and various mandates and relief in personam against parties other than the owners of the bark. Process of attachment against the Bark for the same cause of action as under the previous arrest was issued, upon which the Bark was arrested by the Marshal.

The claimants moved to set aside this process, or that the bond given on the discharge of the vessel, in April, 1856, be cancelled.

Held by the Court.—That it is of no importance to inquire into and determine the regularity or sufficiency of the supplemental libel, as an auxiliary to the case made by the original libel, inasmuch as it does not allege any new lien or privilege against the vessel not existing when the original action was commenced and the vessel was arrested and bonded.

Two years having elapsed between the two arrests and both being upon the same cause of action, the libelants procedure cannot be vindicated and supported on the ground that a repursuit and arrest of the vessel was made immediately after her discharge, on reasons of equity and justice connected with the manner of her surrender or because of fraudulent or unlawful practices employed in obtaining that discharge. It must stand, if at all, on the proposition that the lien runs with the debt and continues a guaranty of the responsibility and sufficiency of the stipulation upon which her release was effected until the value of the res has been realized by the creditor.

That this proposition is a misapprehension of the legal relation between an attaching creditor and the claimant who procures the discharge of the property on stipulation. The stipulation stands in all respects in place of the property, and is dealt with as the responsible subject. The lien which supplied the ground of arrest, in the first instance, is displaced by the adoption of the bond as efficiently as if the lien had been discharged by the direct release of the creditor personally.

That under the decision in the case of the steamship Union, a vessel once discharged from arrest on stipulation by rule of Court, or bond under the act, is exempt from re-arrest in the same suit.

That it was irregular for the libellant, therefore, to take out a new process against the vessel upon the original cause of action.

Ordered, therefore, that the present arrest of the vessel be set aside, and she be restored to the claimant.

For libellant, Messrs. Larocque and Barlow; for claimant, Messrs. Benedict, Burr & Benedict.

Rejoicings Over the Passage of the Kansas Bill at Washington.

We have already mentioned that on Saturday night a crowd of people serenaded the President, congratulating him upon the passage of the Kansas bill. The President appeared on the balcony, and addressed the multitude as follows:

GENTLEMEN: I feel very much honored by the kindness which you have displayed in coming in such respectable numbers to give me a serenade. I have long been acquainted with Washington. I have been intimate with my fellow-citizens of this city for a longer period than many of you have lived, and I have never received anything but kindness, attention and good-will from the population of this District. [Cheers.] I thank you most cordially that the kindness which your fathers have extended to me still lives in the breasts of their children, and I hope when I leave this city, if I live to return to my quiet home, I shall carry with me your affectionate regard, which I shall endeavor to deserve. [Applause.] This is a great occasion on which you have assembled. It is far above men. The best interests of the country were involved in the long contest which has so happily terminated. [Applause.] I hope and believe the result will tend to promote the peace and prosperity of our glorious Union; [cheers;] and, of all the people upon the face of the earth, the people of Washington are the most interested in preserving this unity of interests, which has rendered us glorious abroad and successful and prosperous at home. [Cheers.] I do not think that it will be becoming in me to enter into any discussion of the great question which has so happily terminated. I therefore must conclude these brief remarks with again repeating to you how heartily I feel your kindness, and how gratefully I shall ever remember it to the last period of my existence. [Cheers.]

Quite a number of other distinguished gentlemen were present and made speeches on the occasion. Senator TOOMBS spoke of the passage of the bill as "a pacification in which there has been no dishonor anywhere, in which there has been no concession by the North to the South or by the South to the North, but in a spirit of brotherhood and patriotism they have come together and settled their sectional differences upon a sacred, and permanent, and fundamental ground of public principle and public honor." He thought, therefore, we had a right to rejoice. Senator GWIN said the result was a "complete triumph of the principal of Popular Sovereignty," and declared that if Kansas rejected the Lecompton Constitution she might "shriek and bleed, but should never come in until she has sufficient population, so far as he is concerned." Mr. CLAY, of Kentucky, said Kansas was "now a member of the Union by her own free will," and that "an end had been put to the miserable question of Slavery." Mr. LETCHER exulted in general terms. Mr. STEVENSON, of Kentucky, knew that the spirits of JACKSON, CLAY and several others were looking down upon them with joy, and Mr. BIGLER, of Pennsylvania, said the demand of Kansas for land, in the Lecompton Constitution, was exorbitant, and that the bill promised them admission if they would reduce it and exclusion if they would not.

A number of other gentlemen made speeches in the same strain.

The Committees were then announced.

The President stated that in making up the Committees the only object he had in view was the best interests of the Public School, and to this end he had endeavored to form them so as to make the members forget that there was an Eastern or Western district, and had placed each member on a Committee out of his own immediate district.

THE REV. H. W. BEECHER ON THE REQUISITES FOR MEMBERSHIP.—During the recent revival, a gentleman engaged in mercantile business—a part of which was selling ardent spirits—experienced a change of heart, and applied to be admitted to the Plymouth Church. The usual Committee was appointed to examine the applicant. Having found that he was interested in the liquor traffic, they required of him, before they would consent to report favorably on his application: 1. To relinquish all benefit from the sale of liquor. 2. To agree to withdraw entirely from the business at the expiration of two years. The first proposition was readily agreed to. As to the second, he asked for time to consider what answer to give. Mr. BEECHER, hearing of the circumstance, called upon the candidate, and after learning all the facts, told him to reply affirmatively to the second proposition. He obeyed this advice. The Committee reported the facts at a Church meeting held on Friday evening last; the matter came up for consideration; a long and somewhat excited discussion followed; and finally, the candidate was admitted, by a vote of 75 ayes to 21 nays.

Beeves are sold by the estimated dead weight of the four quarters; the so-called "fifth quarter" (hide and tallow) is not reckoned in here as it is in Boston and some other cities. When cattle are weighed or estimated alive, the dead weight is reckoned at a certain number of pounds to the 100 lbs. of live weight, as agreed upon. The general rule in this market for medium cattle is 56 lbs. to the 100; 44 lbs. being allowed for the "fifth quarter" and offal.

The average prices to-day, as compared with last week, are about ½c. lower.

We quote:

REMARKS ON THE BEEF MARKET.

The cattle market opened at Fourty-fourth-street, this morning, under unfavorable circumstances, so far as the weather was concerned. The rain, commencing during the night, fell, at intervals, in torrents, during the entire day, which doubtless kept from the yards many who were not absolutely in want of cattle, and hurried up the transactions of a portion who had purchases to make. Others, who saw at a glance that cattle were more plenty and lower, hung around till towards night, preferring the chance of later sales. With nearly 300 head more in the yards this morning than last Wednesday, as might be expected, prices commenced at figures below those of last week, and, as the day wore on with dull sales, a greater reduction was made, and weights were liberally yielded in favor of the purchasers. The decline in the afternoon reached fully ½c., and the weights allowed, in many cases, was equivalent to another ½c. We, however, quote the entire sales of the day at about ½c. lower than last week.... The quality of the cattle, though fair, did not equal that of last week. Several very good lots were sold at 10c. ℔ lb, while some of the poorer grades went as low as 8c. There was considerable uniformity—few or none entitled to rank as "premium," and few "scalawags," but with a small sprinkling of good, a large show of such as would have been improved materially by a little longer feeding.... Illinois contributed most largely,—1,247 of the 2,863 at ALLERTON's,—while Ohio, Indiana, Iowa and Kentucky were fairly represented, with small lots from New-York, Pennsylvania and Connecticut.... There are too few Cattle in the adjacent country to consume the large amount of forage saved by the mild Winter, and developed by the unusually easy growth of grass, and the demand from farmers materially assists in keeping up even the present prices in this City. There were a considerable number of farmers at Forty-fourth-street, to-day, who were ready to buy, and some of them made small purchases, but the majority held on in anticipation of still lower rates one or two weeks hence.... We could learn of only about 900 Cattle going east from Albany, though this number added to the 1,183 received here by the steamboats, and 535 by the Hudson River Railroad, accounts for only 2,618 of the 3,056 received at Albany over the New-York Central Railroad during the week ending May 2. The odd 400 were, probably, absorbed in part by Albany and Troy and other adjacent markets.... Some 150 to 200 cattle were left unsold at Forty-fourth-street.

We give in the following table, the derivation, owners, sellers, &c., of the principal lots offered at Forty-fourth-street, and in the succeeding special notes some items respecting quality of individual lots, sales, &c., which will aid the distant reader in forming a fair opinion of the general character of to-day's transactions. These tables, &c., are condensed from copious notes made during a personal examination of the yards, continued through the entire day:

DISBROW at $230, or 10c. They were large and very fat. TEED was also selling 46 nice Ohio steers, for I. D. MILLER, at similar prices. They would average about 700 lbs. S. B. RICHARDSON had two lots, one of 63 rather thin Illinois cattle, selling by T. WHEELER at 9c., and another of 70 Iowas by T. VAIL at 9c. These were of pretty fair quality; estimated at 675 lbs. net.

Wholesale Produce Markets.

Reported exclusively for the New-York Times.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, May 5, 1858.

The prices given in our report from week to week are the average wholesale prices obtained by producers, and not those at which produce is sold from the market. The variations in prices refer chiefly to the qualities of the articles.

The wholesale vegetable markets are in rather an unsatisfactory state just now—"between hay and grass," as the marketmen say, that is, between old and new vegetables. Trade is dull; retailers do not care to buy largely of the old while the new are about taking their place, nor do they wish to purchase freely of the new upon a falling market.

With old potatoes there is very little ange, hc save that common ones are declining. Some seven cargoes of Nova Scotias are now in, and Western Mercers are still coming in quite freely. New Bermudas are becoming quite plentiful. About 5,000 bbls. have arrived since our last report, and more are daily expected. Prices have fallen to $5 ℘ bbl. wholesale, or $5 50@$6 retail. The crop promises to be a good one, and they arrive in good order.

Sprouts, Spinach, Lettuce, Asparagus, Rhubarb, Parsley, Radishes, &c., are declining in price, in consequence of increased supplies.

Butter is unchanged, save a slight advance on western packages, which, being fresh, are nearer on a par with State lots. None is permitted to accumulate, as it is not in keeping order at present.

Lard is less plenty and advancing in price.

Eggs are more abundant and cheaper than has been known at this season for many years. This abundance results from the very mild Winter which prevented killing and forwarding of poultry to market. Farmers were waiting for a "cold term," and as it did not arrive, their fowls were kept over, and are now turning out immense quantities of eggs. They are reported worth but 3c. ℘ dozen in Columbus, Ohio. We quote them at 9½c.@10c., although sales of unknown marks have been made at 7½c. The comparatively small numbers of Long Island and Jersey eggs, bring 11c.@12c. Most of these are consumed in the country.

Poultry is quiet every way. The demand is not large at this season, and only a limited quantity is sent in, mostly from the surrounding country. A few lots of turkeys from Canada may be noticed as an unusual thing at this season, coming as they do without ice. They are worth 12c.@15c. ℘ lb.

Spirit of the Trade Circulars.

H. D. HULL'S HIDE AND LEATHER CIRCULAR.

The unusually active demand which characterized the early part of the month was followed by a comparative dull market, and although no actual concession has been made, sales of common Hides could not be effected unless at a decline from previous rates. The liberal arrivals from Europe, with several large parcels on the way, has been the principal cause of the depression.

The receipts for the month have been liberal, including several parcels from Europe, but the sales of foreign and domestic Hides have far exceeded the receipts, leaving a very small supply of Buenos Ayres and Rio Grande Hides in first hands. The sales of Buenos Ayres embrace several thousand to arrive from Europe. The stock of Orinocos, which was quite large the first of the month, has been reduced one-half. Prices have been steady throughout the month, and most holders are firm in their views.

GREEN SALTED HIDES—The market is quite bare of foreign salted stock, with but little prospect of any material receipts. The M. Nottebohm arrived yesterday from Antwerp with 2,800 Salted Buenos Ayres City Slaughters are firm, with light stocks, price ranging from 7¾c.@8c.

EAST INDIA HIDES—Calcutta Buffaloes are in fair request, but most of the parcels in first hands are held above the market. The stock of Cows is light, and prices well sustained. A parcel, which arrived from Hamburg, has been shipped to Boston. Several lots are now on the way from Europe, the low prices ruling there offering inducements to speculators. Africans are in limited supply without fresh arrivals.

The import of Hides for the month embraces 65,400 from Foreign ports, 98,800 Coastwise, total, 164,200. Sales of Hides for the month, 281,000. The stock on hand of Ox and Cow Hides is 155,800, as follows: 5,600 Dry Buenos Ayres and Montevideo; 12,600 Dry Rio Grande; 34,000 Dry Orinoco: 800 Dry Savanilla; 3,500 Dry Porto Cabello and Laguayra; 2,800 Dry Barcelona: 6,000 Dry Pernambuco; 600 Dry Port au Platte and St. Domingo; 3,800 Dry and Salted Maracaibo; 500 Dry Curacoa and Rio Hache; 600 Dry Laguayra; 800 Dry West Indies; 700 Dry Valparaiso; 500 Dry Chagres and Central America; 3,000 Dry Mexican, (via New-Orleans); 1,400 Dry Vera Cruz; 4,000 Dry Truxillo; 2,000 Dry San Juan; 50,000 Dry and Salted California; 15,000 Dry Southern, Texas, Western, &c.; 1,200 Salted Western and Southern; 7,000 Dry Sierra Leones; 200 Bales Singapore Buffaloes; 120 Bales Singapore Cows; 200 Bales Calcutta Buffalo and Cow; 3,500 Salted Buenos Ayres and Rio Grande Horse.

NEW-YORK, Saturday, May 1, 1858.

SKINS—Goat—The demand both for Curacoa and Mexican has been good, leaving but a light supply of all descriptions on hand, and no Mexicans. Sales this week have been 3,500 Curacoa, 200 lbs., at 60c. each, less 3½ ℘ cent., cash; 12 bales Tampico on private terms; 13 bales Maracaibo Goat at 50c. each, less 4 ℘ cent., cash. Deer—With considerable inquiry both from jobbers and country manufacturers, the stock of desirable Skins has become much reduced, with a better feeling in the market. We cannot look for any material advance in this article, as mitten and glove manufacturers throughout the country were compelled to hold over their last year's stock of manufactured goods, and will, therefore, not require their usual supply. Western Skins are offering in more freely. We notice sales of 2,000 lbs. Maracaibo Deer at 26c., cash; 2,000 Southwestern Deer at 16c., cash.

HAIR—I notice sales of 6,000 lbs. Rio Grande, mixed, at 20c.; Rio Grande and Buenos Ayres, mixed, at 50c.@55c.; Rio Grande, mixed, 20c.@22c.; Buenos Ayres, 19c.@20c., 6 months, ℘ lb.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

SHAKESPEARE'S COMPLETE WORKS,

NEW AND ELEGANT EDITION.
EDITED BY RICHARD GRANT WHITE.
TO BE PUBLISHED BY SUBSCRIPTION
BY
LITTLE, BROWN & CO.,
No. 112 Washington-st., Boston.
IN TWELVE VOLUMES. POST. 8VO.

The labors of Mr. White in the wide field of Shakespearean research and criticism are everywhere known and appreciated by the students and lovers of the Great Dramatist. The recent publication of his "Shakespeare's Scholar," which presented views taken by the author during several years of careful and diligent study, was hailed with delight and satisfaction on both sides of the Atlantic, and secured for him the gratitude of every intelligent reader of Shakespeare who desired to see the text in its original purity, relieved of the mass of superfluous annotations, explanations and attempted improvements by which it had been incumbered, if not obscured, by most of the previous commentators.

This work may be regarded as the precursor of the forthcoming edition of Shakespeare's Complete Works, and as indicating the spirit in which it is undertaken, and, in some degree, its peculiarities.

The chief characteristics of this edition are as follows:

I. Adhesion to the text of the authentic folio of 1623, excepting where that is manifestly corrupt or defective

II. The restoration of many passages from the original text, which the editor shows to have been carelessly assumed to be corrupt in preceding modern editions.

III The successful emendation of many passages which are undeniably corrupt, and which have baffled the efforts of previous editors and commentators

IV. The discovery and correction of many corruptions of the text, which have hitherto been undetected.

V. A "frugal selection from the labors of all" the commentators.

VI. The adaptation of the notes—whether textual, explanatory or antiquarian—to the capacity, not of professed men of letters on the one hand, or of dull and uneducated persons on the other, but of the great mass of Shakespeare's intelligent readers.

VII. The careful preservation of the rhythm of Shakespeare's prose, as well as verse according to the contractions in use at his time, or peculiar to him, as they are given in the old editions, though almost universally neglected in those of modern date

VIII.—The examination, and, as far as possible, the determination, of the old modes of pronunciation, which in numberless instances affects the rhythm, and in many the sense of the text.

IX. The crediting of every emendation, explanation or illustrative quotation, to the editor or commentator who first brought it forward—thus succinctly giving the reader the history of every disputed passage, and so of the vicissitudes of the text.

X. The separation of the text and the notes—the latter being placed at the end of each play, with reference to act, scene and page.

This edition will be accompanied by a reduced fac simile of the curious and interesting preliminary matter to the folio of 1623; by two portraits (exclusive of that upon the title page of the old folio,) one of which has never been published in this country; and by views in Stratford-on-Avon, some of which have been taken specially to illustrate the Memoir of the Poet—which, with an Essay upon his Genius, a compact but comprehensive History of the Text, and on account of the Rise and Progress of the English Drama, will appear in the first volume.

The work will be published by subscription, in twelve volumes, post 8vo., and will be printed on new and elegant type, and very superior paper.

Vols. II., III., IV., V., containing the Comedies, will be ready in a few weeks, the Histories in the coming Autumn, and the Tragedies with Vol. I., containing the Poems and the Editorial Essays, in the course of the following Spring.

Price $1 25 per volume, bound in cloth; payable on delivery.

A few copies of the work will be published with India proof impressions of the three portraits and the few wood cuts, at $1 50 per volume.

Subscriptions will now be received. Copies delivered to subscribers free of expense.

The history of architecture on this side of the water cannot show a more beautiful work than J. Coleman Hart's Designs for Parish Churches.

From the United States Mining Journal.

We are glad to see that the subject has been taken up by an architect so capable as Mr. Hart, who has produced one of the most useful and beautiful books ever issued on the science of Church building.

From the Puritan Recorder.

This, in its way, is a splendid production. It appears to be the work of a master in his profession. The drawings and engravings, and indeed, the whole mechanical execution of the book are elegant.

From the Commercial, (Wilmington.)

In paper, typography, engravings and binding, it is a gem of a book. It cultivates a man to have such a book in sight. Every Church Committee should examine this volume before beginning its work.

From the Episcopal Recorder.

This is a superbly illustrated volume, containing a vast amount of information in reference to the schools of architecture of which it treats.

From the Independent.

The book, considered as a disquisition upon the principles of Gothic architecture, with an analysis of its several parts, is a valuable contribution to ecclesiology. He gives also a valuable chapter on nomenclature.

From the Congregationalist.

We lodge the treatise on a choice shelf, by the side of "Winkles' English Cathedrals," with the feeling that we have another good book there.

CARD TO THE LADIES.—DELUSAN'S UNRIvaled Hair Restorative is a new discovery for promoting and increasing the growth of the hair, invented by a New-York physician of twenty-four years' standing, and for the last few years distributed gratuitously and privately among his friends and patients, but now sold to the public for the first time. The preparation is purely chemical; is no deleterious mixture of acetate of lead and sulphur, which, though changing the hair to its natural color, is done at the risk of poisoning the system and paralyzing the nerves, but is perfectly innocent, and will most assuredly restore the hair where the germ is not destroyed, and will entirely prevent its falling out, or becoming prematurely gray. Sold by E. DELUSAN, No. 7 3d-av., New-York, and by all respectable druggists and perfumers. Hours of consultation given to any ladies who may desire it.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The Senate proceedings yesterday were unusually interesting, the principal subject discussed being the Oregon Bill. But before this was taken up, a joint resolution introduced by Mr. SEWARD, was adopted, granting to the widow of Captain HERNDON three years' full pay of her husband, amounting to $7,500. The resolution passed by a vote of 32 to 8. Owing to the illness of Senator HAMLIN, the bill to repeal the fishing bounties was postponed. The West Point Appropriation was passed, though strenuously opposed by Mr. HALE and others. Mr. MASON'S Paraguay resolution was passed in its original form, Mr. COLLAMER'S amendment prohibiting the employment of force, being reconsidered and rejected. Mr. DOUGLAS called up the bill to admit Oregon as a State. Mr. SEWARD remarked that the Constitution adopted by the people of Oregon contained a clause which he disapproved—that excluding colored persons from the Territory—yet he would vote for the bill. But, on the other hand, Mr. FESSENDEN, of Maine, Mr. WADE, of Ohio, and Mr. WILSON, of Massachusetts, strenuously opposed the admission of Oregon on account of that clause in her Constitution. Mr. HALE, of New-Hampshire, spoke on the same side, and drew attention to the fact that natives of China as well as negroes are excluded. He said he would never vote for the admission of Oregon with this Constitution. Without closing the debate, the Senate adjourned. In the House of Representatives a French Spoliation bill was reported and postponed, when Mr. CLINGMAN made an extended speech concerning the capture of Gen. WM. WALKER, in which he took decided fillibustering ground. His remarks had reference to a report made by him on Tuesday, censuring the capture of WALKER by Commodore PAULDING. After he had concluded, the Minnesota Bill was taken up, Mr. DAVIS, of Maryland, and Mr. ANDERSON, of Missouri, opposing the admission because aliens are permitted to vote by the Minnesota Constitution. The further consideration of the bill was postponed till to-day, when, after some proceedings relative to the Government Appropriation bill, the House adjourned.

The President yesterday determined not to designate the States from which the new regiments of Volunteers will be accepted, until after the General Appropriation bill shall have passed—much to the disgust of persons interested, and who, it is alleged, had been promised that the choice should be made known immediately after the passage of the Kansas and the Deficiency bills.

The news from China, brought by the Europa, was accidentally omitted by the telegraphic agent in our dispatch of yesterday. It is of considerable importance. An imperial edict, dated the 6th of March, had been received at Canton, condemning the acts of YEH, degrading him from office, and appointing a successor, who is to settle all disputes with the "Barbarians." The "Barbarians," however, will not be satisfied with such a mediator; and, as it is stated that the Plenipotentiaries had already started for the North, we infer that they are determined to negotiate with His Celestial Majesty directly, and with none other. Canton continued tranquil.

The mails of the Royal Mail steamship Europa will reach this City, from Boston, at about 5 o'clock P. M. to-day, she having arrived at that port last night.

The steamship Cahawba, from Havana on the 30th ult., arrived at this port yesterday morning. The news is unimportant. We learn, by an arrival at Havana, from St. Thomas, that SANTA ANNA was in the latter place waiting for intelligence from his partisans in Mexico. The new British Minister to Mexico, Lord OTWAY, had reached Havana on his way to Vera Cruz.

General WM. WALKER has addressed a letter to Senator SLIDELL, of Louisiana, denouncing his speech on Nicaraguan affairs, delivered in the United States Senate on the 5th ult., as "a tissue of misstatements," and as containing "insinuations as false as its facts are groundless." The General's letter is given in the New-Orleans papers: we publish it this morning. On the 26th ult., WALKER, ANDERSON, and others of the returned fillibusters appeared in the United States Circuit Court at New-Orleans for trial, under the indictment charging them with a violation of the Neutrality laws. Hon. PIERRE SOULE appeared as their counsel. The Court was not ready to entertain the case, and it accordingly went over to next term.

We learn, from a special correspondent at Albany, that documents have been sent to the Governor, impeaching Judge RUSSELL, of this City. The special ground of impeachment is stated to be his action in the late Wilkes difficulty at the Academy of Music. And we are also informed, that other charges, of anterior date, have been set forth, and his removal demanded.

IRA STOUT, the Rochester murderer, has published a letter, denying that he has yet selected religious advisers, and stating that if the public is anxious to know when that event takes place, he will be happy to furnish the information. He preserves a cool indifference. It is stated that his sister, SARAH LITTLES, who is awaiting her own trial for the murder, is enciente.

Our Custom-House returns for the month of April show the continued effect of the financial panic of last Fall. The total imports into this port for that month were but ten and a half millions, against over twenty last year to the same month—being a decrease of $9,634,932. The revenue fell off a million and a half. This is a little heavier than the decrease in the imports for March, which were $8,621,000 less than in March last year. In our exports the improvement in trade is more visible. During the month of March the exports this year were $5,000,000 less than last year, while during April the falling off is only $2,280,739. This shows that the process of liquidating our debts abroad is going on faster than that of incurring new ones, and thus promises well for the future.

The examination of Mr. WILLIAM FULLER was yesterday resumed before Commissioner BETTS on the charge of attempting to defraud the Government by a forged draft for $5,000 on account of services rendered as mail contractor in the year 1834. FULLER was a partner with JAMES REESIDE, who, it is alleged, drew the draft on WM. P. BARRY, then Postmaster-General; it bears date Nov. 1, 1834, and purports to have been accepted by O. B. BROWN, the Treasurer of the Department at that time. REESIDE deceased in 1842. On the 22d of last April FULLER offered the said draft to JOHN B. MURRAY, of this City, for collection, or discount, with an affidavit that it had been recognized and accepted by the department. Mr. MURRAY sent the draft to Washington, where it was pronounced a forgery, and it was returned with a recommendation that FULLER should be arrested. The son of JAMES REESIDE—who is familiar with his father's handwriting—was the first witness, and swore that the signatures were not genuine. J. B. MURRAY also testified to the facts as to the offering of the draft for collection by FULLER. The case was adjourned to 11 o'clock this morning.

Yesterday, in the Court of General Sessions, DANIEL CUNNINGHAM was arraigned for the murder of "Paudeen." He pleaded "Not Guilty," and said that JAMES T. BRADY, JOHN GRAHAM and Ex-Judge WHITING were engaged as his counsel. The trial was set down for Monday, the 17th inst. DANIEL ECCLES was convicted for an assault on Mr. W. H. SACKETT. Sentence deferred. WM. HUTTON alias John Miller, a noted thief, pardoned out of the State Prison by Governor CLARK, pleaded guilty to burglary in the third degree, and was sent back to the State Prison for five years.

On Tuesday night, Officers BLACK and HORRIGAN, of the Mayor's squad, made a descent on the premises Nos. [illegible] and [illegible] Broadway, the occupants being charged with keeping gambling-houses. A large number of persons were arrested, and a great excitement was the consequence. Recorder BARNARD, to whom the case was referred, adjourned it till Friday next, the keepers of the house No. 537 being discharged, as there was no evidence against them. The other parties were held to bail.

At the meeting of the Board of Education, yesterday, resolutions were offered, and laid on the table, regretting that reading the Bible had been prohibited in the Schools of the Fourth Ward, by the School Officers, and directing that it should be read in all the Schools under the jurisdiction of the Board.

By order of Mayor TIEMANN, policemen will be stationed, to-day, in front of the mock auction establishments, to warn the ignorant of the danger of entering.

The marketmen of West Washington Market held a meeting at which the report of a Committee, appointed by themselves, to investigate the legality of the title by which Messrs. TAYLOR and BRENNAN claim to be their landlords, was submitted. The marketmen claim that the West Washington Market property belongs to the City, and that the lessees under the State have no right to the possession of it. The Mayor and Corporation Counsel have assured them that they shall be protected in their rights.

The Academy of Medicine held their regular monthly meeting last night, at which there was but a small attendance. Prof. EDMUND R. PEASLEE, of the New-York Medical College, formerly Professor in the Medical College at Hanover, N. H., was elected orator for the next anniversary.

The meeting of Tammany Society advertised for last evening, consisted of six Sachems, who met at Tammany, but adjourned without organizing, or transacting any business.

The E. L. Snow Social Union, No. 1, dedicated their new temperance hall, No. 187 Bowery, last night. The occasion was improved by a number of gentlemen who made appropriate addresses, among whom were the Hon. HORACE GREELEY and the Rev. CHAS. J. JONES.

Mr. COOPER yesterday announced 24 additional appointments in the Street Commissioner's Department. Six vacancies are yet to be filled.

The newly-elected Council of the city of Hoboken met and organized on Monday evening by the election of Councilman WILSON President. Mayor MORTON'S message was received, in which he recommended the erection of additional buildings for the public Schools, and a strict enforcement of the license laws.

CHARLES FOX was arrested in Jersey City yesterday, on a charge of having stabbed WILLIAM and DENNIS MCCOY, the latter it is thought fatally. They had been drinking and talking of politics just before the difficulty occurred.

The severity of the April cold has inflicted serious damage upon the cotton crop.

The boisterous weather yesterday interfered with out-door business, to a considerable extent. Cotton was quiet, yet steady. Flour was heavy and prices tended downward. Wheat was in slack request, at irregular rates. Corn was scarce and wanted. It advanced 1c.@2c. per bushel. Provisions exhibited no really new feature. Sugars were in fair demand, without any improvement in prices. Freights were firmer, with 769 vessels of all classes in port.

The Cattle Market was somewhat dull yesterday, owing to the heavy rains. The total City receipts for the week numbered 3,413, an excess of some 300 over the weekly average last year. These were mostly sold out during the day, at prices about ½c. below the average of the preceding market. The great abundance of old hay and fresh grass in the surrounding country, creates a considerable demand for grazing cattle, and much of the surplus stock now brought to this market is being taken to the country for grazing. This will have a beneficial effect on future supplies.

The Public Printing.

We are glad that some change is to be made in the mode of doing the public printing for the Government at Washington. There is no department of the public service which has been more completely under the control of plunderers and jobbers than this. The recent report of an investigating Committee showed that millions have been paid recklessly and extravagantly for public printing, and that jobbing of the grossest and most outrageous character has constantly been practiced in its management. It has been proved that persons who have secured the contracts for printing and binding through party favoritism, have sold them out at enormous profits, and received hundreds of thousands of dollars without doing a particle of the work they had contracted to perform The amount of public documents printed at the public expense is immense, and not one-tenth part of these papers are worth printing at all. They serve no purpose but to deplete the treasury, lumber the mails, and furnish fresh material for the paper mills.

Another abuse is in the sums paid for reporting the debates in Congress. Over $250,000 was paid out of the public treasury for reporting the debates of the Thirty-fourth Congress. We do not know that the price is excessive if the work is to be done, but there is no reason why it should be done at all. If the public at large is sufficiently interested in the debates of Congress to warrant their publication, they will be published in the newspapers:—if not, there is no reason for having them published,—certainly there is no reason why the Government should incur the expense of publishing what the public does not want.

The truth is this system of Congressional reporting does more than anything else to encourage the utterly vicious system of debating which prevails in Congress. A debate, in fact, is scarcely known. In the House, especially, there is nothing like a direct, fair parliamentary discussion of the subjects of legislation. On the one hand, members read long essays upon politics in general, to which nobody pretends to listen, and which do not even aim at producing any effect upon the sentiment of the body to which they are addressed. And whenever this stupid and senseless system is broken in upon, it gives place to some disgraceful personal wrangle—in which epithets are substituted for arguments, and the not unusual climax is a resort to blows. The whole tone of our Congressional debates is low, and discreditable to the country. The Senate is an exception in part, and very often discussions take place in that body which are earnest, instructive and useful. But in the other branch of Congress the whole system is vicious and absurd. Many influences contribute to this result. The size of the Hall, which renders it almost impossible to hear the speaker,—the introduction of arm-chairs and desks, which affords every member relief from stupid speeches, and thus encourages others in making them, and the ridiculous hour-rule, which is only less intolerable than the evil it is intended to cure, all have much to do with degrading the character of our Congressional debates. But no one of them is more injurious than the system of reporting every speech, good, bad or indifferent, at the public expense.

Whether these evils, or any of them, will ever be effectually remedied, may well be doubted. Too many persons are interested in their perpetuation to render reform easy. We hope, however, that something may be done to render them a little less burdensome to the public treasury.

THE TRANSATLANTIC TELEGRAPH.—Preparations for renewing the attempt to lay down the wires for this great enterprise are making very good progress. Meantime the experiments that are made upon the cable are not calculated to remove all doubt as to the feasibility of telegraphic communication through three thousand miles of submerged wire. About two words and a half per minute are all that can be transmitted at present through the entire cable, and it is by no means certain that even this rate can be maintained when the cable is under water. It will not have escaped observation, moreover, that in Parliament the Earl of DERBY stated very emphatically that "no exclusive privileges would be conferred upon any particular Company" in regard to the points of landing upon the opposite coasts. If this experiment, therefore, should prove successful, the business of Transatlantic Telegraphing will not long remain a monopoly.

Do we Care for California?

The Government of Mr. BUCHANAN will have it all their own way now for a brief period of time. They have only to decide what they will do, and to let the country understand what it is. They have shuffled off the "mortal coil" of Kansas for a few months, no matter at what expense to the Democratic Party which lives by the breath of their nostrils; and we await the first symptoms of that great "practical activity" for which we have been so often told that Mr. BUCHANAN has been pining ever since his accession to power. The President has discounted the Democratic future. What will he do with the means which he has thereby raised? One great question, of Continental importance, presses upon his attention and upon the attention of all who can look beyond the conflicts of the odious institution of Slavery with the genius of the Republic, to the real and mighty destinies which await this marvelous Empire of ours. The Pacific Railroad has forced itself into the order of the day. What action does the Administration propose to take upon this subject and upon the cognate subjects which spring up about the mention of the theme?

It has been already suggested in many quarters that the Treasury of the Union is too much depleted for the Government so much as to think of recommending the inception of an enterprise which must call upon the country for such contributions as are judged requisite, even by optimists and contractors, for the construction of the Railway to the Pacific. No people have a greater horror of the notion of a national debt than the Americans, and we have little doubt that there are many constituencies in these United States which would prefer the disruption of the Union along the line of the Cordilleras to the temporary burden imposed by a grand national scheme for binding the Atlantic with the Pacific in chains more durable than any constitution of politics can afford. But we do not believe that the majority of the American people would shrink from any expenditure which could be shown to be necessary to the permanence of our Empire. And, therefore, we look with anxiety, if not with hope, for the action of the present Congress, and for the initiative of the Administration upon the Pacific Railway question. We are all of us quite ready to discuss the arguments for and against the assumption of a protectorate over Mexico by the Federal power of the Union. Have we shown a fitting sense of the vast possibilities which lurk in the relations of Mexico to that America of the Pacific, with whose interests the Atlantic States are content to be so insultingly unfamiliar, and whose appeal for the means of a closer union with ourselves we hear with so much of genial indifference? California is rapidly attaining a solid maturity of power. Oregon is growing up at her side into an almost unobserved opulence of resources. A hundred contingencies may occur by which the prosperity of these distant and vigorous branches of the American stock may be seriously compromised by the relations of the Federal Government. Are we so ignorant of the history of our race as to suppose that these great communities, conscious of an independent strength, and surrounded by territories teeming with wealth which literally implore invasion and conquest at their hands, will always remain bound to a central authority at a distance of thousands of miles, which openly neglects the only practicable means of putting them into swift and safe communication with itself? We have but to suppose the case of a great maritime war, menacing the coasts and the commerce of the American Pacific, to comprehend how precarious are the ties which bind those coasts and that commerce to a metropolis which refuses to court their affections in the hour of peace, but reserves the right to compel their association in the perils of war. Possibly the people of the Atlantic States really care nothing for California, Oregon, and all the magnificent future of those far western States. If our political passions have dwindled down into the vulgar lust of office, or the senseless rage of party, this is quite conceivable. A Congress which can find no leisure for anything but personal explanations and extemporaneous caucuses—a Cabinet which fulfills the functions of a broker's office between those who have votes to sell and those who have bribes to offer, can hardly be expected to rise to the contemplation of secular interests and a continental policy. But it is certain that if we do not rapidly decide upon the measure of our national concern for the Pacific, the Pacific will, at its own good time, decide upon the measure of its own concern for us. As to the practicability of establishing a swift overland communication with the Pacific, we must be content to accept the popular instinct which demands it as a prophetic intimation that the thing can be achieved. The nation which is capable of conceiving such an idea is capable of realizing it as well. And it certainly does not become us to hesitate upon this aspect of the case, in the face of the actual efforts which our Northern neighbors are now making to "outstrip us in the enterprise." A railway from the British shore of Lake Superior to the Pacific coast at Vancouver's Island is already planned—the surveyors by whom the work is to be done are now on their way to the projected western terminus, and the whole scheme has, within a very short time past, assumed proportions dangerously definite. As it has been well remarked, the expenditure by England and Canada of $75,000,000 upon a railway which is to call a new empire into existence, and pour one of the great streams of the world's carrying trade through the American Provinces of Great Britain, is less of a dream to-day than was the building of 1,000 miles of railway by the unaided Canadas five years ago. Vancouver's Island enjoys in the North Pacific such advantages of soil and position as are only paralleled by those of Cuba in the Caribbean and of the British Islands in the North Atlantic. The vast territory which stretches along our Northern frontier from the Lakes to the Pacific, has been long secluded from the knowledge of mankind by the jealous policy of the Hudson's Bay Company. But the knell of that vast monopoly has been struck, and England has found herself mistress of a magnificent virgin dominion, where she had looked only for inhospitable and barren wastes. The region through which the Pacific Railway is to run proves to be not less fitted to all the purposes of agriculture and of commerce than the Canadas themselves. The development of these new Northern Territories will certainly bring us no harm. By their wealth we shall be enriched, and by their prosperity we shall prosper. But there are a thousand reasons affecting our material interests as well as our prestige, which make it in the highest degree undesirable that we should be left to follow where we ought to lead, in linking the Eastern with the Western Ocean. And the strongest of these reasons, if we do not ourselves give force to them while it is yet time, will assuredly be brought home to us at no very distant day, by the States which now uphold the flag of the United Confederation on the shores of the Pacific.

TUCKERMAN, THE MAIL ROBBER.—On Tuesday, Judge INGERSOLL, of the United States Circuit Court, sitting at New-Haven, sentenced WM. S. TUCKERMAN to twenty-one years at hard labor in the Connecticut State Prison. TUCKERMAN was convicted of four separate acts of mail robbery, for each of which the law made him liable to a term of imprisonment not less than two nor more than ten years; and the Judge awarded him an aggregate of twenty-one years, as above stated. He received his doom in silence, and as we may well believe in despair.

The case is remarkable. TUCKERMAN is young, not over thirty, and no vulgar villain. His connections are respectable; and previous to his crimes, he enjoyed a corresponding standing in the community. But he lacked that moral firmness necessary to preserve from the first guilty step. That step was taken about two years ago, while he was treasurer of the Boston and Maine Railroad. He became a defaulter. Detection followed, and dismissal; but through mistaken clemency, not exposure and punishment. Having thus stepped his foot in crime, the fatal plunge was easy. Self-respect was sacrificed and conscience defied. He deliberately became a thief and robber. The mails between New-York and Boston were his prey, until the watchful eye of justice arrested his depredations. Caught with the evidences of his guilt upon him, his disgrace and conviction were inevitable.

Seldom is a condemned criminal entitled to less sympathy than TUCKERMAN. As the Judge truthfully remarked, his social position and the influences surrounding him aggravated his offences. He goes to confinement and penal servitude for a period so long, that should he survive its weary duration, the stamp of age will be impressed upon his brow, and society seem so strange and new, that he will pray for restoration to the gloom of his accustomed cell.

There is an impressive lesson in this case. The temptations of business surround the steps of all who make haste to be rich. The Court has performed a high duty in the sentence of TUCKERMAN. His fate is proportioned to the greatness of his guilt. Let those who, in the course of their affairs are tempted to step aside into crime, be reminded that a terrible disgrace awaits dishonesty, and that the first offence commits its perpetrator to irretrievable ruin.

VIRGINIA RAILROADS AND THE VIRGINIA PRESS.—We learn from the Richmond Examiner that the managers of Virginia railroads have abolished the dead-head system, as far, at least, as the Press is concerned; whereupon that paper declares that "it is just what might have been expected of selfish, heartless, soulless corporation." The Examiner, while condemning the atrocious conduct of the railways in having first bribed the Press to support their measures by liberal presents of free tickets, and then withholding them when their purposes had been accomplished, still rejoices at it because the Press will thereby be left independent to speak of the railways as they deserve. The Examiner, now that its shackles have been removed, has no hesitation in declaring that "The support of railroads in Virginia has been from the first an up-hill business with the Press, and that the people have been against them all the time and are still opposed to them." This is not very complimentary to the Virginians, but we presume it is quite true. The Examiner ought to be good authority on this point. If we may be allowed to express our opinion on the subject, we should say that the railroads acted very naturally in showing their indifference to the good will of a power that could be bribed so cheaply as by the gift of free tickets.

LOTTERY CAUTION.—We would respectfully caution the public against the many frauds practiced upon the community under the guise of Lotteries. There are but four States in which lotteries are legalized, viz.: Kentucky, Delaware, Maryland and Georgia, therefore, all circulars or advertisements directing parties to send to New-York or to any place in which lotteries are unlawful, can be safely set down as bogus or swindling concerns; and too much praise cannot be awarded to his Honor, Mayor TIEMANN, for the strong and successful efforts he is making towards breaking them up.

MISS SUSAN DENIN AGAIN.—Popularity is the word. This lady meets with it wherever she goes. It haunts her fair face—it dogs her light footstep. Already the crowd are in ecstacies with her performances at Barnum's Museum, and cannot vent too warmly their intense admiration. To-night she plays again in "The Bride of an Evening." Two pieces are given besides this afternoon.

EXCELLENT ENTERTAINMENT.—The best company now to be found in the City is said to be at Purdy's National Theatre. To-night Mr. H. A. PERRY and Miss DENVIL appear as Jack Cade and Marianne. Mr. BLANCHARD will also appear, with his dogs, in the "Idiot of the Shannon." The farce of "Swiss Cottage" and feats by the Carlo Family make up the bill.

INFLUENZA CURED
IN A FEW HOURS.
There are a great many, at the present time, seriously troubled with coughs, colds, and influenza. If ye who are thus troubled will swallow from four to six of Radway's Regulators, and bathe the surface of the body with Radway's Ready Relief, your whole system will be free from every symptom of pain and distress in less than six hours after these remedies are used. A gentleman who visited Wallack's Theatre on Monday night, got overheated, took off his overcoat, exposed himself to a cool draught of air, and caught a very severe cold. During the night he was seized with violent pains all over his body. His throat was so sore he could scarcely swallow; watery discharges from the eyes and nose were constant; every bone in his body ached with pain; and he was so hoarse that he could not speak above a whisper. In this condition the next morning found him. We, however, knew his difficulty, and knew the remedies that would cure him. At 7 o'clock he took down six of Radway's Regulators, and had his whole body rubbed with Radway's Ready Relief. At 12 o'clock, the same day, he was rid of all his difficulties. Radway's Regulators and Ready Relief will cure the influenza and all bad colds in a few hours. Toothache is cured instantly by the Relief.

READY DAY AFTER TO-MORROW
THE GREAT WORK ON HUGH MILLER.

From early Glasgow sheets, by special arrangements.
THE LIFE AND TIMES OF HUGH MILLER,
Author of the "Testimony of the Rocks," "Old Red Sandstone," "Footsteps of the Creator," "Schools and Schoolmasters," &c.
PREPARED BY
THOMAS N. BROWN,
The Eminent Scotch Divine.
Muslin, with Steel Portrait, 12mo. Price $1.

The life of so remarkable a man as HUGH MILLER cannot fail to excite attention and interest. The name of HUGH MILLER is a "household word" wherever the English language is spoken. Born in the lowest ranks of life, his indomitable will and wonderful genius raised him among the master spirits of science. The Stone-Mason of Cromarty is admitted to be the greatest geologist of the age. The volume announced above presents a genial and appreciative picture of the life and times of this marvelous man. Written by one of his most intimate friends, a former co-laborer with him on the celebrated "WITNESS" newspaper, and a resident in the same house with the subject of his Memoir, the author had abundant opportunities for studying his noble heart and manly character—opportunities which have proved invaluable, as his volume testifies. It is a genuine labor of love.

TO BOOKSELLERS:

The popularity of every volume by the author of "Testimony of the Rocks," "Schools and Schoolmasters," &c., is surpassed by few writers, and the Life and Times of so distinguished a Theologian and Scientific man will, without doubt, have a large sale. Booksellers, by ordering in quantities directly from the publishers, will be given an extra discount.

This book will be sent by mail, postage paid, to any part of the United States, on receipt of the price, $1.

RASCALITY ARRESTED! COUNTERFEITERS CONVICTED!

CERTIFICATE.

We, the undersigned, do hereby certify that we are personally and favorably acquainted with Professor CHARLES DE GRATH, and unhesitatingly say that we know him to be the original inventor, compounder and preparer of the article known by the name of and called DE GRATH'S ELECTRIC OIL, for which he has the copyright, and that he introduced the same in the City of Philadelphia in the year 1852. His first place of business was No. 13 South 8th-st.; he removed to No. 39 South 8th-st., below Chesnut, where he still remains, and has been manufacturing and selling the same constantly since that time; all of which time he has been the only person who understood the compounding or the making the true ELECTRIC OIL. That which is made and vended by others as ELECTRIC OIL is spurious, and got up in imitation of the true DE GRATH'S ELECTRIC OIL, to deceive the public.

This is by far the most ABSORBING and THRILLING TALE OF LIFE AMONG THE INDIANS ever published. The heart-rending Trials, Sufferings and Privations of the lovely heroine, BLANCHE BERTRAND, whose life was in constant peril, and who suffered more than pen can relate, during her captivity, will enlist the SYMPATHIES of every reader.

The popular and distinguished author has executed his task in a masterly manner. In this class of Tales it is universally admitted that he has no equal at the present day. In speaking of this new tale the Ledger says: "It is a narrative of wild and perilous adventures among the savages of our western border, and is full of stirring incidents, intensified by poetic fire and mellowed by subduing pathos. At the outset it takes hold of the heart with a vigorous grasp, and leads the imagination captive."

The NEW-YORK LEDGER also contains contributions from the pens of the following distinguished writers:

GEORGE D. PRENTICE,
MRS. L. H. SIGOURNEY,
T. S. ARTHUR,
SYLVANUS COBB, JR.,
FANNY FERN,
ALICE CARY,
EMERSON BENNETT,
WILLIAM ROSS WALLACE,

and a host of other popular authors, whose names constantly appear in its columns.

As an indication of the popularity of the LEDGER, we need only mention the simple fact that its circulation is larger than that of any TEN literary papers in the country. Its great success is owing to the fact that it secures the best writers in the country, and spares no expense in getting up the BEST FAMILY PAPER—a paper of high moral tone.

The exalted reputation of its well-known contributors, the practical and unmistakably pure and healthy character of all its articles, and the care which is taken that not even one offensive word shall appear in its columns, have gained for the NEW-YORK LEDGER a position that no literary paper has ever before occupied. We feel, and always have felt, since the LEDGER attained its immense circulation, that a tremendous responsibility rested on us, and have endeavored to discharge that responsibility conscientiously, feeling confident that ultimately we should receive the thanks of thousands and tens of thousands of families.

The LEDGER is for sale every week at all the periodical stores throughout the United States.

The subscription price is $2 per annum when sent by mail, but no subscriptions are wanted from towns where there are news offices established.

MEDICAL.

THE LIVER INVIGORATOR.—PREPARED by Dr. SANFORD, compounded entirely from Gums, is one of the best Purgative and Liver medicines now before the public.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

Bilious attacks are cured, and, what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose, after eating, is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring prevents nightmare.

Only one dose, taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal, will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfulls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic, while

One dose, often repeated, is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera.

Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

One bottle, taken for Jaundice, removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose, taken a short time before eating, gives vigor to the appetite, and makes the food digest well.

One dose, often repeated, cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst forms, while Summer and Bowel complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

PRICE ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Dr. SANFORD, Proprietor, No. 345 Broadway, New-York.

Retail Agent FREDERICK V. RUSHTON, No. 10 Astor House, corner of Barclay, and No. 417 Broadway, corner of Canal.

TRIESEMAR PROTECTED BY ROYAL Letters Patent of England, and secured by the Seals of the Ecole de Pharmacie de Paris, and the Imperial College of Medicine, Vienna. TRIESEMAR No. 1 is a remedy for relaxation, spermatorrhea, and exhaustion of the system. TRIESEMAR No. 2 effectually, in the short space of three days, completely and entirely eradicates all traces of those disorders which copavia and cubebs have so long been thought an antidote for, to the ruin of the health of a vast portion of the population. TRIESEMAR No. 3 is a great Continental remedy for that class of disorders which, unfortunately, the English physician treats with mercury, to the inevitable destruction of the patient's constitution, and which all the sarsaparilla in the world cannot remove. TRIESEMAR Nos. 1, 2 and 3 are alike devoid of taste or smell, and of all nauseating qualities. They may lie on the toilet table without their use being suspected. Sold in tin cases, and divided in separate doses, as administered by Velpeau, Lalleman, Roux, Ricord, &c., &c. Price $3 each, or four cases in one for $9, which saves $3; and in $27 cases. Sold by Dr. H. A. BARROW, No. 157 Prince-st., a few blocks west of Broadway, New-York. Immediately on receipt of the amount Dr. B. will forward the $9 cases of TRIESEMAR and the large sizes, carriage paid, thus insuring genuine European preparations. The $3 cases also sent, but not free of carriage. Consultations as usual, from 11 A. M. till 2 P. M., and from 4 till 8 P. M., at 157 Prince-st., a few blocks west of Broadway.

M. till 8 P. M., except Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, till 5 P. M. only. The Doctor's MEDICAL ADVISER AND MARRIAGE GUIDE, nearly 400 pages, 100 picture illustrations, is $1. Sold and mailed also by TOWNSEND, No. 222 Broadway, New-York. We commend Dr. LARMONT to the afflicted.—Courrier des Etats Unis, Staats Zeitung, Day Book, Atlas, &c.

Decrease in receipts from California	$1,449,383
Increase in receipts from Europe	3,893,000

There is no change in Money to-day. The European news adds to confidence in the easy working of the market through the Summer. In London, the ruling of the Funds, the reception of the Budget, and the state of political affairs, all pointed, at the latest date viâ Halifax, to quiet and redundancy in Money. The Bank of England was gaining Bullion, without being able to command Bills at 3 ℔ cent. ℔ annum. The Discount houses were underbidding at 2¼@2½ ℔ cent. The probability is that the Bank will reduce their rate to 2½ ℔ cent. in a week or two, and that the Funds will reach nearly par before the July dividend. The news is well received by our Cotton people of course. The market here is fair, but without excitement. The frost accounts from the South are of a mixed character. The more serious threatening to the young plant is from the floods in the valley of the lower Mississippi. The Foreign Exchanges are quiet to-day. London is called 109¼@109½ since the Boston mail closed, but the outside figure is scarcely supported. The screw steamer Kangaroo, for Liverpool, will take a mail at noon on Saturday. The first deposits preliminary to bids for Treasury Bills, were made with the Sub-Treasury to-day. The bids must be in Washington before the hour of noon on Monday. In regard to New-York country currency the following circular appears from the new Assorting-House at Albany:

ALBANY, Monday, May 3, 1858.

The Managers of the Assorting-House, after consultation with numerous friends of the enterprise, and in accordance with their own convictions, have decided to make no change in their terms for receiving and assorting State currency, but to adhere strictly to the agreement entered into with the Bank Convention of the 18th of February last.

They believe that a partial reduction of rates, applied to Banks only, cannot be lasting, and that a general reduction is not desired by the Interior Banks, as it will tend to require them to carry the burden and pay the expenses of the exchanges between City and country, through the medium of their own circulating notes, and also subject them to serious competition with foreign and unsecured currency.

The Assorting-House has the cordial support and coöperation of nearly one hundred and seventy New-York State Banks, which redeem through it daily, upon the terms agreed upon with the Convention; and its Managers are confident that if those Banks will continue to send their currency to the Assorting-House, direct or through their corresponding Banks, they will fully accomplish the objects for which it was established.

The following is the accumulation at the principal commercial points of the country, according to the official returns of the present week It will be noticed that the grand total held in the four cities now exceeds sixty-five millions dollars.

On the Stock Exchange to-day, the Share list, with only a moderate business, was quite dull, and prices yielded a fraction, through both sessions of the Board, from the closing bids of Tuesday. New-York Central opened at 89½ in the morning, sold at 89¼ at the Second Board, and after the printed list, further declined to 88⅝@¾ ℔ cent. This change, and the decline in Rock Island to 78½@78@77¾, influenced the Railroad shares generally, though not to the same extent, Erie finally closing 24¼@⅜, Reading 47¾@48, Michigan Southern 25¾@26, and Milwaukee 29⅞. Panama and Delaware and Hudson, and all the City Bank shares were steady. On the Bond list, also, there was a steady and well distributed business, on cash orders, from outside buyers, and the tendency of investment in State Stocks and a few of the higher class Railway Bonds, is gradually strengthening prices. Missouris, Virginias and Tennessees and Illinois Central Construction, were firm and in request. The unsecured Bonds of the Erie Company, of 1871 and 1875, have recovered 3@5 ℔ cent. of the recent decline. La Crosse Land Grants are 1@1¼ ℔ cent. easier, selling at 31¾ ℔ cent.

There was no particular cause assigned for the increased weakness of the speculative shares. Parties outside the Board, looking to Money affairs and the European news, will, no doubt, be somewhat surprised at it. But the fact that the buoyant market of Monday was sustained only a single day, was availed of by the Bears to create the impression that the Bulls in Central and Rock Island realized on a good deal of stock, and that those stocks were thus made easier on the Street, besides losing part of their support at the Board. Of course, this is mere conjecture, and might as well be applied to the whole list as any particular part of it. That there were some realizations on the advance, we have already reported, but our own observation for the last fortnight or three weeks, has been that the very gradual but in the end decided gain made in prices from week to week, was acquired by the general market, without much, if any, specific inside support, and against an inside pressure of time-contracts in Central, Rock Island, Erie, Reading, and two or three other of the Railroads. If this be so, the bare suspicion of realizations, will hardly keep the same or other equally able parties from coming in again; unless outside confidence should be affected by some change in political or financial affairs not now apprehended.

Parties interested in the Bonds of the City of Maysville, Kentucky, will find a very interesting letter from the Counsel of some of the New-York creditors, with Mr. L. H. MYER, corner of Hanover and Beaver, and a copy with Messrs. DE COPPET & Co., No. 19 William-street. As it is important to have all the Bonds represented, since the late favorable, though preliminary decision of the Kentucky Courts, the Bondholders would do well to call on either of the above houses.

We notice sales of first mortgage 7 ℔ cent. Bonds of the Belleville and Illinoistown Railroad Company at 64, at the First Board, this morning. They have recently been introduced. This is a low price for a first mortgage Bond upon a finished and productive road. The Belleville and Illinoistown is the western section of the Terre Haute and Alton line. It is about forty miles long, extending from Alton to Illinoistown, (opposite St. Louis,) and thence to Belleville. In addition to the business of the Terre Haute Company with St. Louis, all of which passes over the Belleville section, the Chicago and Alton road sends its St. Louis traffic over the same line from Alton, for which it pays a specific rent of $66,000 per year. The Belleville and the Terre Haute sections of the line are now consolidated, and their securities are of the same value. The consolidated line is 212 miles in length; the total of first mortgage debt is $1,600,000, being $1,000,000 upon the Terre Haute and Alton section, and $600,000 upon the Belleville section. The gross earnings of the consolidated line since its opening, have been as follows:
